

of default. The loan value of $1,500 policy would be $753 at the end of two years, $153.52 in five years, and $558.10 in fifteen years.

Partisanship was injected into the final passage of the bill by the Democrats, who announced that they regarded the insurance bill as unsatisfactory and said they would immediately after its enactment into law commence a movement for its amendment by providing a full cash option.

Loophole for Option Amendment

Such Democrats as voted against the cash option today did so only because of the pressure of the American Legion. In describing the insurance bill they used such terms as "misleading make-shift," "fraud," and "pitiful substitute."

One of the amendments slipped into the bill on the floor has the effect of postponing the issuance of the insurance certificates long enough to give Congress an opportunity next winter to amend the law to provide a cash option. This amendment was approved on the motion of Senator Walsh (Dem., Mass.), who was in charge of the bonus fight for the Democrats.

Under the bill as reported to the senate the certificates would have been issued Jan. 1, 1925, but under the Walsh amendment the date is made July 1, 1925. The Democrats propose to make their fight for a cash option next winter and in the event of the election of a Democratic administration there would be an opportunity to amend the law after March 4, 1925. Under the bill as it now stands it will be July 1, 1927, before a veteran can borrow on his certificate.

Cash for Small Bonus

Under another amendment adopted on the floor on the motion of Senator Walsh those entitled to $50 or less can receive their cash bonus as soon as the necessary records are prepared instead of waiting for nine months after the enactment of the law.

Amendments were adopted on the motion of Senator Wadsworth (Rep., N. Y.), chairman of the military affairs committee, providing for the inclusion of Philippine scouts and members of the Porto Rican regiment of Infantry under the bill.

Amendments to give certificate holders the option of $50 in cash were defeated. Numerous other amendments also were rejected, including one by Senator Brookhart (Rep., Ind.) to provide for loans through the veterans' bureau and the postoffice.

Tax Bill Comes Next

The revenue bill was made the unfinished order of business tonight, following the passage of the bonus bill. It is expected that the discussion of the bill will run for three or four weeks.

ARTIST CRUEL, WIFE CHARGES IN DIVORCE BILL

From love and riches to love and poverty and then to no love at all has been the program of Mrs. Dorothy Gibbons Mulligan, it was charged yesterday when she brought suit for divorce against her second husband, George F. Mulligan, a sculptor.

Mrs. Mulligan once asserted she preferred life in a garret with her artist husband to existence in a mansion with wealth. She referred to her recently divorced husband, Walter C. Gibbons, wealthy box manufacturer.

Then Mulligan, according to the divorce bill, began a campaign of cruelty and drunkenness. On the first anniversary of their marriage he gave her a black eye, she charges. He was drunk on 300 days, the bill states, adding that he frequently took her clothing in his rages.

CAPTURE BOOZE DURING CALUMET CITY RAIDING

Twenty prohibition agents visited Calumet City (West Hammond) yesterday and raided more than a dozen saloons and soft drink parlors, arresting two owners of seven of the places, a very beer, "moonshine," and raw alcohol were seized. About fifteen men found drinking in the saloons also were taken.

SOVIETISM BACKS HIS SENATE FOES, DAUGHERTY SAYS

Refused Files Telling of Communist Intrigue.

Columbus, O., April 23.—Harry M. Daugherty told an audience of friends and neighbors here tonight that he had given up his cabinet post rather than "contribute to a treasonable cause."

Files of the department of justice, he said, contained "abundant proof of the plans, purposes, and hellish designs of the communist international."

"Bear in mind," he added, "that the files which I refused to deliver to the Wheeler investigating committee at the time my resignation was requested were demanded by Brookhart and Wheeler, two United States senators who spent last summer in Russia with their Soviet friends—those same Soviet and communist leaders who preach destruction of constitutional government, destruction even of human life."

Wouldn't Aid "Treasonable Cause"

"I preferred to permit my integrity to be questioned and my honor to hang in the balance for the time being, rather than surrender the files in the keeping of the department of justice. I gladly gave up a post of honor rather than contribute to a treasonable cause."

Mr. Daugherty charged that "pillage to Moscow by United States senators" had been arranged for by the communist authorities after their efforts to capture American labor organizations had failed.

"There (in Russia), no doubt, new inspirations were advanced," he continued, "as to what steps should be taken to cripple the government of the United States and crumble the columns that support it."

"It may fairly be inferred that one step in this direction was to capture, by deceit and design, as many members of the senate of the United States as possible and to spread throughout Washington city and in the cloakrooms of congress a poison gas as deadly as that which sapped and destroyed brave soldiers in the late war."

Says Records Give Proof

Mr. Daugherty said department of justice records began that a communist movement began in the United States three years ago to destroy confidence "in our form of government."

"To this end," he continued, "confidence in men of both political parties had to be destroyed, when they could not be dominated by the directors of the movement. At any cost, by any conceivable method, cruel, criminal, or murderous, the character of men in authority had to be destroyed."

The former attorney general declared that official government records, obtained from official Russian sources, "contribute indisputable proof" of the assertions he made.

The former attorney general then paid his respects to the Daugherty committee. He declared it was well known that a majority of this committee "would make an adverse report without charges and without evidence."

WHEELER MAKES REPLY

Washington, D. C., April 23.—Replying to recent criticism by former Attorney General Daugherty of the senate investigation, Senator Wheeler (Dem., Mont.), prosecutor of the Daugherty committee, declared tonight that "the evidence thus far adduced before the committee is only a drop in the bucket."

"The achievements of the department of justice," of which Mr. Daugherty boasts, he added, "cannot be

Chauncey Depew, Young at 90, Gives Full Credit to Humor

New York, April 23.—(Special.)—Chauncey M. Depew was 90 years old today. Sitting in his office in the New York Central building, he summed up the philosophy of his ninety years have taught him. Here it is in essence:

"This is a pretty good world, and the people in it are pretty good people. If you cultivate a sense of humor and the right outlook you won't get dyspepsia or insomnia, and most of your troubles come from them. Most of the things that could upset us if they happened, never happen."

"I intend to lead the last decade of my century," he said with a chuckle, "in the same sensible way I have led the other nine."

"Most useful thing I ever learned," he said in reply to questions, "is how to conserve body and mind by working two sets of brain cells."

Learns from Subordination

"Way back in the eighties, while I was president of the New York Central, I began to notice that the men who came into my office to discuss matters were very tired looking and distraught. Some of them died off in the fifties."

"I found the reason. It was because they worked all day, took their work home, ate with it, and took it to bed fully revealed until the Ohio gang, known at Columbus as 'us boys' and numbering almost a dozen high officials in the department, is ousted."

"Daugherty complains he has had no opportunity of cross-examining witnesses. This is false. His counsel have been allowed to examine every witness who finished direct testimony. In the case of Miss Rosie Stinson, they complained for days of not being allowed to cross-examine, but when given opportunity they were glad to stop in five minutes."

"The 'attack upon dead men,' referred to by Mr. Daugherty results from the fact that Jess Smith was his roommate and constant companion. Jess Smith was honest before he came to Washington with Daugherty. If he then became corrupt it was as Daugherty's agent, his buffer."

Jess Smith's Office

"Daugherty says 'he never knew Smith had an office in the department of justice.' Everybody else knew it. Many letters were written by Smith on Daugherty's official stationery, and Mr. McLean, Congressman Haley, members of Mr. Daugherty's staff, addressed Smith at the department."

Taking up the Montana indictment against himself, Mr. Wheeler said: "Daugherty tries to create the impression he had nothing to do with it, but that it originated in the postoffice department. My indictment was due solely to Daugherty's desire to discredit me because I was investigating him. Such indictments have been a regular part of his game, just as it has been a regular part of his game not to prosecute criminals."

URGE DR. TANNER FOR BISHOP OF A. M. E. CHURCH

More than 150 parishioners, friends, and guests gathered at the Bethel A. M. E. church last night to urge the Rev. C. M. Tanner, colored, pastor of the church, to be a candidate for the African Methodist Episcopal bishopric when the conference of that body is held in Louisville May 4. A testimonial dinner was given in his honor. He came to the Bethel church here in September, 1922.

SEEKS TRIAL OF MAL DAUGHERTY BEFORE SENATE

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Washington, D. C., April 23.—(Special.)—One of the next battles in the senate will be the disposition of the contempt cases against Mal S. Daugherty, brother of the attorney general, and Howard Manington of the "little green house on K street" fame.

The resolution for the contempt proceedings is being prepared by order of Senator Smith W. Brookhart, chairman of the Daugherty investigating committee. The Brookhart plan is to bring Daugherty to the bar of the senate and keep him constructively in custody until he agrees to produce the books of the bank in Washington Court House where secrets of the Daugherty family finances are held.

Involves Senate's Power.

A counter resolution citing the case of the district attorney, as was done in the Harry Sinclair case, also is in sight, with a battle on the senate floor certain. The question involves the whole power of the senate in the investigation and is a case with few if any precedents. The committee has retained Washington lawyers to prepare the resolutions and arguments.

The Wheeler indictment committee, with Senator William E. Borah as chairman, this morning heard the testimony of L. V. Bauleau, Los Angeles attorney formerly retained by the Gordon Campbell interests of Montana. The indictment charges that Campbell sold Senator Wheeler to Republican resent him before the department of the interior in oil permit matters.

"Did you have any conversation with Senator Wheeler about certain government permits?" asked the chairman.

"Yes," he replied, and continued: "Wheeler lived in Montana, where they speak plain. He said, 'I don't know a thing about government permits—would not know one if I saw one, and I don't want a thing to do with government land. I told Campbell that I would only appear in the state courts.'"

Coan Denies Quotation.

Blair Coan, who may be called as a witness in the morning, made this statement last night:

"The statement quoted in The CHICAGO TRIBUNE from a letter said to have been received by former Congressman Tom Stout that I said to S. L. Ford, former attorney general of Montana, and O. A. Landrum, Republican national committeeman from Montana, that 'We must indict Wheeler and smear him up, whether we ever get a conviction or not,' or that I made any such statement to either of them, is absolutely false.

Ford I know as an intimate friend of my life. Dr. Landrum will not testify to any such conversation. I have been in Washington for a week insisting upon an opportunity to testify, and have been denied the opportunity by the committee, which has busied itself with getting before the country the evidence of Wheeler's friends and associates in his defense, without the slightest effort to get light upon the facts upon which Wheeler was indicted."

O.W. Richardson & Co. the store that's "in between"

WHEN we say that this is the store that's "in between" we mean it is a store for all the people all the time.

We mean that when you come to RICHARDSON'S you don't see any "cheap" Furniture or Floor Coverings. Anything you find here is always good and reliable, regardless of its low price, because we never have handled and never will handle anything that is not so thoroughly good that we can't guarantee it in every respect.

Unquestionably the reason RICHARDSON'S is Chicago's fastest growing store is because all of our ability and facilities are devoted to supplying the home furnishing needs of the great bulk of the population.

The next time you need any Furniture or Floor Coverings come in and see how true it is that this store is intended for your convenience and the protection of your "purse." Better still, come in before you want anything. See what we have and get acquainted. We believe a friendly visit of this sort will be of interest to you and will be the means of saving you money when you do need something in our line.

DE JOY CHEATS HANGMAN BY LEAP TO DEATH

James Petrucci, alias DeJoy, big and confessed wife slayer, leaped to his death yesterday morning from the third floor of the defect bureau, 179 North La Salle street.

DeJoy had been taken from the room to the third floor for further questioning regarding the manner in which his wife met her death. He resisted the confession made earlier the night that he had murdered wife, Mrs. Anna Kohnke Petrucci, the Forest preserve near Riverdale. Just as he made his final statement and in the presence of police and newspapermen, he crashed through a window to the pavement below, used on the way to the hospital.

SCHOOL BOARD PASSES BUDGET OF $57,980,000

Faces Huge Deficit Ensuing Year.

Chicago's annual school budget of $57,980,000, the largest in the history of the city, was passed by the school board yesterday.

D. H. Robb was the sponsor. He said that the $57,980,000 is a record for the city and that it is a record for the state.

The present budget exceeds by $125,000 more than $5,500,000 in excess of the board's anticipated revenue for 1925. It is estimated that in 1925 the net deficit of $13,779,539.23 will be increased to more than $15,500,000.

The appropriation in excess of the net deficit is accounted for by an increase of $1,513,993.78 which is a surplus of $1,513,993.78 in the educational fund and items in the educational fund amounting to $2,521,752. of which $1,560,000 provides for additional teachers' promotions, and automatic increases.

Huge Deficit in View

Thus at the end of 1924 the deficit of $125,000 in excess of the board's anticipated revenue for 1925 cannot possibly look for any plus. At the rate the budget is increasing each year the deficit total nearly $15,000,000 for 1925 appropriations will be in excess of $60,000 over the revenue.

The largest single item is for educational purposes and amounts to $15,513,993.78. Other appropriations are: Building purposes, $17,456,000; free text books, $791,885; school grounds, $645,588; and teachers' salaries, $571,192.

Miss Elizabeth W. Murphy, assistant superintendent of schools, was elected by a unanimous vote. She is the only woman member of the board. Her cabinet and it is expected will have charge of girls' work.

Gets $10,000 Yearly

Her election fills the fifth and last vacancy on the board. The board during the formation of the 1924 budget. Her salary is fixed at $10,000 a year. She has been in school system since 1883 and is 58 years old.

Edgar A. Martin, state architect, appointed supervisory architect for the board after the building and ground committee exonerated him of charges of inefficiency in public office brought by Lewis Ogden, trustee. His appointment was approved by several grounds that a supervisory architect was not needed. His salary is $6,000 a year.

Mrs. Mary H. Smyth, 78 years old, ousted principal of the Peabody school was dismissed from the board of education on charges of inefficiency and forcing antiquated methods of teaching. During her trial she refused to appear for questioning and declined to submit to a physical examination.

SCHOOL BOARD PASSES BUDGET OF $57,980,000

Faces Huge Deficit for Ensuing Year.

Chicago's annual school budget of $57,980,000, the largest in its history, was passed by the board of education yesterday. Dr. John D. Hill, president of the board, was the sole objector. He asked that an item of $500,000 in the interest fund be stricken out and that four assistant superintendents of schools be paid $7,800 a year instead of $10,000. His move was defeated.

The present budget exceeds that of 1923 by more than $5,800,000 and is $5,000,000 in excess of the anticipated revenue for 1924. It is estimated that in 1925 the present deficit of $13,779,539.23 will be increased to more than $15,600,000. The appropriation in excess of revenue is accounted for by an item of $1,000,000 which is a surplus from 1923 and items in the educational fund amounting to $2,521,752, of which $2,000,000 provides for additional teachers, promotions, and automatic increases.

Huge Deficit in View.
Thus at the end of 1924 the board has an increased deficit and at present cannot possibly look for any surplus. At the rate the budget is increasing each year the deficit will total nearly $18,000,000 for 1925 and appropriations will be in excess of $10,000,000 over the revenue.

The largest single item is for educational purposes and amounts to $13,131,763. Other appropriations set aside: Building purposes, $17,456,438; the first books, $791,585; school playgrounds, $645,538; and teachers' pensions, $571,192.

Miss Elizabeth W. Murphy, superintendent of school district No. 4, was elected by a unanimous vote. She is the only woman member of the board. Mr. Hill's cabinet and it is expected she will have charge of girls' work.

IMPROVING SOUTH WATER STREET—ANOTHER STEP FORWARD

So confident are the members of the board of local improvements that the consent of property holders along South Water street is assured for the project that their attention is now centered on a study of the financial end of the widening. The figures indicate the widths of the upper and lower drives, which will be connected by ramps at suitable intervals.

STUDY CASH PLAN FOR SOUTH WATER STREET WIDENING

May Finish Work in Three Years.

By OSCAR HEWITT.
So confident are President Sloan and other members of the board of local improvements that they will be able to acquire on a fair basis all land needed to widen, revamp, and improve South Water street that they turned their attention yesterday to the scheme of financing.

Its total cost is now estimated at $24,000,000. A large bond issue, upward of $10,000,000, will be needed to supplement the special assessments in order that the entire cost may be covered. This will probably not be submitted until the November election.

While approximately 85 per cent of the property owners whose property will be taken by the city for the improvement have agreed to the terms and prices offered them, and it is expected that the other 15 per cent will readily agree, it is estimated that it will take six weeks more to complete the negotiations and get the final court order.

Completed in Three Years.
Mr. Sloan estimates that the job can be completed within three years after the money is available.

"Public conveniences, or rather the present almost intolerable street congestion, demands relief as soon as economical construction can provide it," said Mr. Sloan, who had a corps of engineers reckoning on the actual work yesterday. He wanted to know details of cost for the first section, starting at Michigan boulevard, and for the materials to do all the work. The president of the board said he believes that construction at the east end is advisable to relieve some space on Michigan boulevard.

The South Water street improvement provides for a two level street between Michigan boulevard on the east and Market street on the west, which shall be as wide as the present street and the depth of the buildings to the north.

Plan the Levels.
The lower level will be shoved downward about 9½ feet, until its surface is only five feet above the water level in the river, while the upper level will be about that of Michigan boulevard.

All north and south streets will connect with the upper level, and the lower level will be pierced by broad alleys from the south and by the lower level of Michigan boulevard and the present level of Market street. In addition, there will be a ramp at Market and at Michigan boulevard, by which vehicles can go from one level to the other.

The upper level will have a roadway 72 feet in width, flanked by sidewalks on either side 16 feet in width. The lower level will have three driveways, each 27 feet wide. On the south side, abutting the buildings, will be a loading platform eight feet wide, and on the river side will be an esplanade 27 feet wide. Three ventilating plants will keep the lower level free from carbon monoxide gases.

The east end of the improvement will be a fork, one prong extending east on South Water street and the other on River street to Boul Mich at its level. President Sloan plans to use this upper level on River street as a west drive only and South Water as an east drive. These two streets meet at Wabash avenue, which will be connected with the upper level by an incline of about 3 per cent.

It is believed that three years will be all the time needed to create this beauty spot from what is the dingy neighborhood between the Wrigley buildings on the right and the London Guarantee and Accident building on the left.

will keep the lower level free from carbon monoxide gases.

The east end of the improvement will be a fork, one prong extending east on South Water street and the other on River street to Boul Mich at its level. President Sloan plans to use this upper level on River street as a west drive only and South Water as an east drive. These two streets meet at Wabash avenue, which will be connected with the upper level by an incline of about 3 per cent.

SLOAN LOCKS OUT SEWER DIGGERS; CHARGES 'TRUST'

Two hundred sewer laborers are idle and work on more than $2,000,000 worth of street paving projects halted as the result of a lockout ordered against the Sewer Excavators' union yesterday by John J. Sloan, president of the board of local improvements.

Suspension of all improvement activities will drive into the open, Mr. Sloan declared last night, the influences which have protected the twenty year monopoly of the Washington Construction company, headed by Peter Shaughnessy, president of the bricklayers' union, in the construction of brick catch basins and manholes for the city.

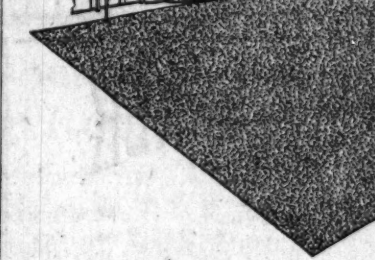

The lockout followed the admission of Peter Posco, business agent of the Sewer Excavators' union, that a strike of laborers employed in paving operations on North avenue at Mason and Mansfield avenues, had been called at the behest of Shaughnessy.

RICHARDSON HELD GUILTY OF KILLING GIRL WITH AUTO

Law Provides Year to Life in Prison.

Ralph C. Richardson, stepson of Thomas E. Wilson, millionaire lumberman, yesterday was found guilty of manslaughter with an automobile. The verdict was given by a jury in the court of Judge Homer Wells. Punishment is fixed by law at imprisonment in the penitentiary for one year to life. State's witnesses had accused Richardson of having driven Wilson's high powered automobile, while intoxicated, at forty miles an hour, when little Dorothy Marguerite Joyce was killed and her mother injured.

Ends Long Deadlock.
The jury's verdict of guilty came after many hours of deliberation. Twice the jurors told Judge Wells an agreement was out of the question, but the judge kept them at it, refusing to discharge them. They were given the case at 3 o'clock on Tuesday and returned the verdict yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The mother, Mrs. Walter S. Joyce, 504 Lafayette avenue, was leading her daughter across Cottage Grove avenue at 5th street, and had nearly crossed when Richardson's car struck them. The child was thrown forty feet. Her mother was dragged nearly that far beneath the automobile.

Richardson, according to evidence produced by Assistant State's Attorney Michael A. Romano, stumbled about at the scene of the accident, mumbled inarticulately, and failed to render any assistance in the removal of his victims to a hospital. A physician said he was "50 per cent intoxicated."

Mr. Romano halted the verdict, which is the first conviction for automobile manslaughter in many months, as a "victory for careful motorists, and a foreboding warning to reckless, drunken, and speeding drivers."

The convicted man's attorney, Oscar Olsen, entered a motion for a new trial. Judge Wells set the hearing for May 3. Meanwhile Richardson is at liberty on a bond of $10,000.

Deaths Total 160.
Two men died yesterday, victims of automobiles, as the motor death toll in Cook county since Jan. 1 rose to a total of 160.

John Lejeune, 52, 3458 South Trumbull avenue, Berwyn, accepted an invitation to be driven to his home from work, and was killed when he fell from the running board of the automobile on which he was riding. The Berwyn police are investigating, and an inquest will be held today.

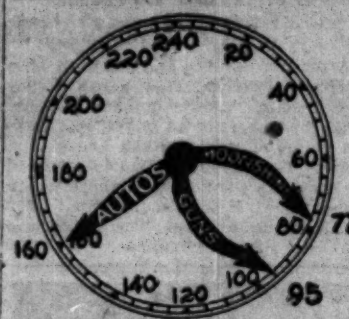

Isaac Johnson, colored, 52, 2413 South State street, died in the Wesley hospital of injuries received April 19 when he was struck by a Yellow taxi cab driven by Joseph Deest, 6104 South Hermitage avenue.

PROFESSIONAL BONDSMEN SENT TO JAIL CELLS

An investigation of the activities of two lawyers, two policemen, and three bondsmen is expected to develop today in Judge Parnell's court when James Reid, a Pullman porter, appears for hearing. Reid, whose presence in St. Louis is sought on an extradition, has charged that although he is innocent of crime he has been stripped of more than $1,800 in an effort to clear himself.

On Monday the matter came before Chief Justice Caverly of the Criminal court. Before Judge Caverly had asked a dozen questions he became so indignant that he ordered James Riley, E. J. Allen, and Butler Coleman, all professional bondsmen, to be locked up in the Chicago avenue jail. They later were released on bonds.

Asks Bar Investigation.
Having locked the bondsmen up Judge Caverly then dispatched a letter to William H. Sexton, president of the Chicago Bar association, suggesting an investigation of the activities of Attorneys Frank McDonnell and R. E. Westbrook. Later he wrote a letter to Chief of Police Collins urging an inquiry into the evidence against William A. Scott and John T. Middleton, two policemen.

Reid declared to Judge Caverly that he could furnish positive proof that he was in Chicago on the day it is charged that he participated in a theft in St. Louis. He said the books of the Pullman company would show this. Judge Caverly ordered that the Pullman records be offered today before Judge Parnell.

Reid Tells Experience.
Reid said that when he was arrested he engaged Attorney McDonnell. "I gave him $400," he said, "and being confused, I didn't notice that he gave me a receipt for $200. Mr. McDonnell said part of the money had to go to Middleton and Scott. And then I didn't get out of jail, even when I could produce the records showing that my train was in Chicago."

Reid showed receipts for $750 paid to Westbrook, $460 to James Riley, and $100 to Butler Coleman.

"Then," said Reid, "I had a talk with Mr. Allen. He wanted me to give him $200 for the policemen. I told him I had already paid the policemen. He said that didn't make any difference. So I gave him $50 and promised to give $150 more. Here's the receipt."

The receipt carried the names of the policemen. Reid said he had been compelled to sell his small home and part with most of his small valuables to pay lawyers, bondsmen, and policemen.

He was released on a writ of habeas corpus and promised to appear again today.

Danish Socialists Name Woman as Cabinet Member
COPENHAGEN, April 23.—King Christian received Premier Stauning, head of the new labor government of Denmark, at an audience today and accepted the premier's list of ministers, all of whom with the exception of Count Moltke, foreign minister, are members of the Danish Socialist party.

Mrs. Nina Bang, a widely known economist, is minister of education—the first woman to hold a cabinet post in Denmark.

FOUNDER OF GIRL SCOUTS TO BE HERE MONDAY
Mrs. Juliette Low, founder of the Girl Scouts, will arrive at the Drake hotel tomorrow to attend the national convention of the organization, opening in Chicago next Monday. Mrs. Low comes of a great-grand sire who was something of a founder himself, John Kinzie, who became Chicago's first white resident in 1844, starting business as an Indian trader and representative of the Hudson Bay company.

Mrs. Low, while a resident of London twenty years ago, cooperated with Gen. Sir Robert Baden-Powell in the organization of the Boy Scouts, and out of that experience grew her idea of a similar organization for girls.

Mrs. Low was the first president of the order. It is now headed by Mrs. Warren G. Harding, honorary president; Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, honorary vice president; and Mrs. Herbert Hoover, president.

TRACTION MEN BALK AT BUSES' ROUTES IN LOOP
Surface lines officials indicated to a council local transportation committee subgroup yesterday that unless the operation of motor buses through the loop is regulated by the city, they will not accept the rerouting program now under consideration. Several aldermen agreed with the traction companies' representatives that little relief in downtown traffic congestion could be expected if the buses are allowed to make the left hand turns that the new plan would eliminate from loop street car routes.

"I am not in favor of letting the bus companies come in and do the things we prohibit the surface lines from doing," said Ald. Guy Guernsey (8th).

Assistant corporation counsel told the committee that without a franchise or permit, the buses were operating illegally in the city's streets.

Abolition of all parking privileges within the loop and on all street car streets throughout the city may be recommended to the city council by Mayor Dever's safety commission.

FRENCH LOOK OF COOLIDGE TALKS AS "HOME BREW"

"Just Politics," Haile Britain and German

BY HENRY WALES

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service Copyright, 1924, By The Chicago Tribune) PARIS, April 23.—Domestic campaign propaganda of a presidential candidate in the forthcoming election rather than the official view of the chief executive of the United States government is the way French diplomatic circles regard President Coolidge's New York speech, in which he concerned reparations.

The President's statement on reparations and complete acceptance of the Dawes plan is swallowed up in the French government's exacting as was Prime Minister Raymond Poincaré last week for the entire of the experts' report because the government seeks to escape from being put in a minority of holding out and obstructing the final settlement.

But Premier Poincaré's objection to rushing the Dawes plan into effect remains unchanged. The Premier insists on the necessity of clearing the problems of security and armaments (which he wishes to secure from the allies) especially Great Britain) as to what measures, military or naval as well as economic, will be taken against Germany in case it fails in executing any part of the experts' plan.

Wants $250,000,000 First. The French government also wants the German government to raise 400,000 gold marks ($200,000,000) through the proposed international loan and pay it together with 200,000,000 national gold marks (1,000,000,000 gold marks) ($250,000,000) in reparation payments during the coming year before France will relinquish economic and commercial hold on Ruhr and abandon the accord with the Ruhr industrialists as well as customs barriers and control of railroads.

The same objection which has practically every American utterance concerning Europe's peace problem since the senate rejected the Versailles treaty also greets Coolidge's speech. "It is easy for America with its resources to accept any responsibility or obligations to sit apart across the Atlantic and give Europe advice as to what it should do to solve these problems," is the opinion of French diplomats.

See New Blow at League. The President's frank war against permitting Europe's war debt to the United States to be scrambled up with the European reparations mutual indebtedness is regarded strengthening his American opinion and sends the semi-official French schemes for transferring American claims on France to Germany to the graveyard.

President Coolidge's admission that the league issue is dead in America since the country overwhelmingly voted against it creates a certain joy in certain circles here as it strengthens French opposition to entrusting important weighty matters to the League organization which is regarded by them as impotent without the members of all the large powers. Mr. Coolidge blows at the League also; it appears justifies M. Poincaré's insistence vesting the solution of questions arising under the treaty of Versailles in the hands of the great powers.

FRENCH LOOK ON COOLIDGE TALK AS "HOME BREW"

"Just Politics," Hailed in Britain and Germany.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Copyright, 1924, By The Chicago Tribune.
PARIS, April 23.—Domestic political campaign propaganda of a presidential candidate in the forthcoming election rather than the official viewpoint of the chief executive of the United States government is the way French domestic circles regard President Coolidge's New York speech, in so far as it concerned reparations.

The President's statement urging immediate and complete acceptance of the Dawes plan is swallowed without objection in French government circles, except as was Prime Minister MacDonald's demand last week for adoption in entirety of the experts' report, because the government seeks to escape from a long and bitter fight in the matter of holding out and obstructing the final settlement.

But Premier Poincaré's objections to rushing the Dawes plan into operation remain unchanged. The French insists on the necessity of settling the problems of security and unrepaid war debts before committing himself and he wishes to secure pledges from the allies (especially Great Britain) as to what measures, military and naval as well as economic, will be taken against Germany in case it defaults in executing any part of the experts' plan.

Wants $250,000,000 First.

The French government also wants the German government to raise $500,000,000 gold marks ($200,000,000) to pay the proposed international loan and pay it together with 200,000,000 additional gold marks forming 1,000,000,000 gold marks ($250,000,000) in reparations payments during the coming year before France will relinquish her economic and commercial hold on the Ruhr and abandon the accords with the Ruhr industrialists as well as the customs barriers and control of the Rhine.

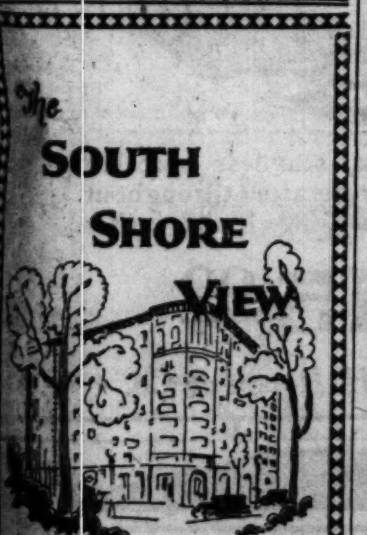

The same objection which has met practically every American utterance concerning Europe's peace problems since the senate rejected the Versailles treaty also greets Coolidge's speech.

"It is easy for America without assuming or accepting any responsibility or obligations to sit apart across the Atlantic and give Europe good advice as to what it should do to solve her problems," is the opinion of the French diplomats.

See How at League.

The President's frank warning against permitting Europe's war debts to the United States to be scrambled with the European reparations and loan imbedded in reparations is regarded as strengthening this American opinion and sends the semi-official French schemes for transferring American claims on France to Germany toward the graveyard.

President Coolidge's admission that the league issue is dead in America since the country overwhelmingly voted against it creates secret joy in certain circles here as it strengthens French opposition to entrusting important weighty matters to the Geneva organization which is regarded here as impotent without the membership of all the large powers. Mr. Coolidge's blows at the league also apparently justifies M. Poincaré's insistence in questioning the solution of questions arising under the treaty of Versailles.

Editorial expressions, which have appeared so far, do not show a kindly feeling for Mr. Coolidge's views on a new disarmament conference.

BRITAIN LIKES SPEECH

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Copyright, 1924, By The Chicago Tribune.

LONDON, April 23.—Prime Minister MacDonald, other members of the cabinet, and party leaders are still out of town for the Easter holidays, and they are not due to return before the reopening of parliament next Tuesday, so it is impossible to secure their personal views on President Coolidge's speech.

While the permanent officials of the foreign office are only willing to talk after having been given "a lead" from the cabinet, all asserted today that they welcome the President's speech as forecasting American cooperation in the reestablishment of European stability. They are sure that Great Britain will do all in its power to help Mr. Coolidge to bring about a new conference. An announcement was made by Mr. MacDonald just before parliament rose for the Easter recess that he favored the calling of another disarmament conference just as soon as he felt there was the least chance of it receiving a welcome should be made such approaches.

"If any invitation is extended by any other power for such a conference my door is open," he added.

Hailed in Germany.

BERLIN, April 23.—[By United Press.]—Germany today greeted President Coolidge's speech as expressing full approval of the Dawes plan for a reparations settlement and at the same time a broad hint to France that America will disapprove any effort to sabotage the plan.

The speech heartened the government and the people, especially Mr. Brüning, who regarded the proposed loan to Germany. Government officials felt the President's public approval of the proposed loan will assure its full subscription. Inasmuch as the government has regarded the proposed loan, as recommended in the Dawes report, as the first prerequisite for adjustment of reparations, it is felt that the movement for a settlement of the involved problem is advanced considerably.

There was some disappointment at Mr. Coolidge's declaration against possible American participation in the league of nations, but German officials pointed out that America's continued interest in reparations makes at least her partial reappearance in European politics.

Belgium Accepts Dawes Plan.

BRUSSELS, April 23.—[By the Associated Press.]—Belgium's reply to the reparations commission's communication with regard to the experts' report is a full and complete acceptance of the report, according to the semi-official independence Belge. The newspaper adds that Premier Poincaré and Premier Thoms and Paul Hymans, head of the Belgian representation on the commission, will meet soon to discuss the reparations question.

FINAL CURTAIN SOON FALLS ON PAGEANT FUND

Final preparations for the acceptance of the city of $235,000 from the Pageant of Progress exposition, including William Hale Thompson and a number of his associates, were made yesterday before Judge Ira D. Ryner by attorneys who had filed suit against the officials, demanding return of profits from the pageant to the city.

The sum is all that remains from $350,000, the net profits of the exposition, and the city has agreed to accept it rather than wage a long court fight to recover what Thompson, John Dill Robertson, Charles R. Francis, and other city and pageant officials have spent.

Went Into War Chest.

Most of the expenditures, according to Attorney Max Grossman, who as a taxpayer brought the suit, went to the war chest of the Boosters' Publicity Club, a Thompson campaign organization.

Under the agreement, to which Mr. Grossman reluctantly acquiesced, the city will receive $50,000 in cash and full title to a dental clinic building built by the Thompson organization, which is said to be worth $145,000.

Argue Attorney Fees.

The hearing before Judge Ryner was to fix the amount of attorney fees to which the complainants are entitled. Grossman said a reasonable sum would be $20,000, and was supported by the testimony of Attorney Clarence Darrow, Assistant Corporation Counsel Daniel Gallery, however, said a taxpayer's suit was brought without hope of reward and declared no funds should be taken from the city's share in payment of fees.

Give Bob Two More Years.

"We've had simplicity for so long now, that the pendulum must swing the other way," said Dr. Nestler, agreeing with the hairdressers' convention, who give the bob two more years. Seven of ten models wore long hair, but the "bobs" were new creations—"rose petal curls, 1924," an adorable curly head of ringlets, bound with a bandeau of brilliant; it looked a bit like 1920, yet had the gay sophistication of 1924.

Wigs the Latest.

If there is any "horse and buggy" girl who fears the merry clip of the shears, she can satisfy her style sense by purchasing a bobbed wig. Featherweight, with natural, silky hair bobbed and curled, in any color you prefer, these fit so tightly over your own smooth braids that they defy detection even by a husband. And it also works the other way: the woman who has bobbed in haste can repent in a wig.

A large number of women are having nervous breakdowns over their appearance with bobbed or shingled hair," said Paul Rilling, president of the association. "They may not realize it, but it is because they have lost their personality, but it may be regained by fastening on hair that will give the appearance they previously had or by using a wig."

"Personality hair" in its simplest form is a braid that may be fastened across the back of the head, giving a very chic Greek effect. Or curls and curls may be piled on top of the head in a more formal dress.

SEEK MISSING MAN WITH $2,000.

Police were asked last night to look for Arthur F. Mass, who disappeared Tuesday after starting for Milwaukee to meet his father. Mass had $2,000 with him.

BOBBED WIGS OR WIGGED BOBS IS FASHION DECREE

Both to Milady.

BY MAURINE WATKINS.

Take your choice! (For you'll pay your money either way.)

"Bob your hair—it stimulates growth!" said Paul Rilling yesterday afternoon at the hairdressers' convention at the Sherman hotel.

"Bob your hair—and you'll soon be bald!" said Dr. Charles Nestler, originator of the permanent wave, and Dr. Edward Johnson, president of the Columbia College of Beauty Culture.

Remember Samson, He Warns.

"Remember Samson," warned Dr. Johnson. "Dellah cut his hair and he lost his strength, and men have been getting weaker and weaker ever since! Cutting the hair lets the air in, destroys the color pigments and nutritious oils. And if women keep up this bobbing they'll soon be in the bald headed row!"

"Cutting is the worst thing on earth for the hair," agreed Dr. Nestler. "The weight of long hair pulls the scalp, which starts circulation and makes the hair grow. When this weight is removed these roots, unstimulated, dry up, and the hair begins to fall out. By actual test in our New York laboratory cutting the hair just one time lessens its elasticity, carrying power, and productivity 7 per cent."

While he talked "Mamselle"—a $20,000 a year expert—demonstrated a permanent wave, and with its twenty electric curlers turned an innocent looking girl into a Medusa for half an hour. But every woman in the audience gasped with envy at the curls she'll have for the next six months. A dozen pretty models showed the coming styles: high dress for evening wear, with elaborate little curls piled high and puffs tucked coyly in the back.

RENEW MURDER CHARGE AS FIRE RELIEF GROWS

Police Get Warrants; Cash Pours In.

In addition to the charge of "murder by arson," on which a coroner's jury held them to the grand jury, warrants charging arson and murder were obtained by the police yesterday against Samuel Moore, Leo Unell, and Samuel Polinsky.

These warrants, obtained before Chief Justice Caverly of the Criminal court, resulted from police investigation of the death of eight firemen and one civilian when a wall fell during the fire that recently destroyed Curran's hall, Blue Island avenue near 14th street.

Agrees to $70,000 Bail.

Preliminary hearing will be given before Judge Caverly today, and the state has agreed to a total of $70,000 bail. This would be divided $20,000 each on the murder charge and $10,000 each on the arson charge for Unell and Moore, with a total of $10,000 on Polinsky.

The agreement for bail was reached when Attorney Charles E. Epstein appeared before Judge Harry A. Lewis yesterday to ask freedom of the three men on a writ of habeas corpus.

Honor Dead Fireman.

A corps of Milwaukee firemen joined members of the Chicago fire department yesterday in paying honor to Thomas W. Kelly, the last of the firemen who perished in the Curran hall fire. More than 300 firemen attended the services, which were held in St. Charles Borromeo Catholic church, Cypress street and West Roosevelt road.

WEEKS MET DEATH BY ACCIDENT.

Leon Weeks, the artist, whose body was found floating in the lake Friday, came to his death by drowning "either accidentally or otherwise," a coroner's jury found yesterday.

Whether Miss Nesbit will accept what she terms "the Thaw's dirty money" is a question, the answer to which Thaw has not yet received.

Under the Pennsylvania law such motion and reasons for a new trial must be filed within four days after the finding of the verdict.

Thaw's mood of jubilant incoherence continues today. He intends, he said, to create a trust fund out of which Evelyn Nesbit will receive $10 a day as long as she lives.

Divorce Suit Revived.

New York, April 23.—Suit for divorce brought by Jack Clifford, dancer, against Evelyn Nesbit, formerly wife of Harry K. Thaw, was restored to the trial calendar of the Supreme court today. Clifford had moved originally to have the case stricken from the calendar. The dancer alleged infidelity in his complaint. His wife has filed a counter claim for divorce against him, also charging unfaithfulness.

Thaw's mood of jubilant incoherence continues today. He intends, he said, to create a trust fund out of which Evelyn Nesbit will receive $10 a day as long as she lives.

Divorce Suit Revived.

New York, April 23.—Suit for divorce brought by Jack Clifford, dancer, against Evelyn Nesbit, formerly wife of Harry K. Thaw, was restored to the trial calendar of the Supreme court today. Clifford had moved originally to have the case stricken from the calendar. The dancer alleged infidelity in his complaint. His wife has filed a counter claim for divorce against him, also charging unfaithfulness.

Whether Miss Nesbit will accept what she terms "the Thaw's dirty money" is a question, the answer to which Thaw has not yet received.

Under the Pennsylvania law such motion and reasons for a new trial must be filed within four days after the finding of the verdict.

SEIZE 2 MEN AS THEY MAKE OFF WITH $2,500 FURS

Isaac Harris, 3031 Prairie avenue, and Henry Karp, 515 East 36th place, were arrested yesterday afternoon as they were attempting to escape with furs valued at $2,500, which they had seized from an automobile.

Two other men, companions of those arrested, made their escape. Several shots were fired by the police during the chase.

The furs were samples, the property of Leon Waits, 19 South Wells street. He left them in the automobile when he went into a store.

McGUGIN PICKS HOLES IN FORD'S SHOALS OFFER

Grid Star Says Plant Will Kill Competition.

BY DONALD EWING.

Washington, D. C., April 23.—(Special.)—Dan McGugin, whose Vanderbilt university football teams usually back through all opposition, today told the senate agricultural committee how propaganda is being spread through the south for approval of the Ford Muscle Shoals bid.

McGugin, who is a chamber of commerce director, was one of a delegation from the Tennessee Manufacturers' association. He and D. H. Williams of Tallahoma, Tenn., gave intertwining testimony which, combined, was the expenditure of thousands of dollars made the south look on Ford as a savior if given Muscle Shoals.

Some $35,000 for this propaganda came from Ford friends in Nashville, Chattanooga, Knoxville, and Memphis areas. How much more, and its source, is unknown.

But the south now is waking up to the fact that Ford in Muscle Shoals means ruin and not salvation. "The trouble has been," McGugin testified, "that the south was brought to believe that industry wouldn't help it. But now the southern farmer is realizing that what he really wants from Muscle Shoals is electric power—power for his farm as well as for the manufacturer who thus will be able to take his product without it being shipped a long distance. He now is learning that Muscle Shoals can help the whole south and not just one city at the time."

Williams gave details of the money raised for propaganda, producing selling letters. "The south has been flooded with it," he said. "Because of it, not one man in a hundred really knows what Ford's offer is. Nine out of ten who do know are against Ford. Ford promises the farmer absolutely nothing, yet the battle has become 'cheap fertilizer for farmers.' It went into every farm home."

And, interrupted Senator Kendrick (Rep., Wyo.), "I suppose it was swallowed by a lot of farmers who hadn't hauled the fertilizer out of their own cow sheds for three years."

Can Crowd Out All Competition. "If Ford gets Muscle Shoals," continued Williams, "he can wipe out every manufacturer in the south by using his own power for plants of his own. We won't be able to compete with him, for he can get up iron factories, cotton mills, and other manufacturing, give his power to them cheap, and stick us with prohibitive prices and another us."

"This accomplished, he need not attempt to compete with other on fertilizer—he can just forget that, and the farmer."

Going into the manufacturing end, Senator Norris (Rep., Neb.) brought out that a power plant in Muscle Shoals could furnish power for nearly all of the south, and that in Canada power is transmitted 500 miles and sold at 3 cents per kilowatt hour, whereas it is 10 cents here. And the 3 cents includes cost of distribution and assessment for amortization.

"The south," said McGugin, "has been taught that it's either give Ford Muscle Shoals or junk it. It's now learning that blocking Ford means more for the south than helping him."

Philippines Shaken

MANILA, April 23.—[By the Associated Press.]—The villages of Cagaya, Magway, Baganga, and Satool, along the east coast of Davao province, were considerably damaged by the earthquake of a week ago, according to the officers of the inter-island steamer Samar, which arrived here today. The town of Butuan, Agusan province, was also badly shaken. The fate of the villages along the eastern coast of Surigao province is not known, telephone communication being interrupted.

(The eruption of a volcano on Batan Island recently drove the inhabitants to shelter near the water's edge.)

HONOLULU, April 23.—[United News.]—Continuous earthquake shocks that have lasted for more than twenty-four hours are rocking the Puna district of the island of Hawaii. There are many cracks in the earth, and railroad traffic in the area has been disrupted by the splitting of their roadbeds. At Kapoho, southwest of Hilo, the inhabitants were evacuating the town in a panic late this afternoon. There have been no reports of loss of life.

CONFERENCE TO STOP SMALLPOX RAVAGES CALLED

Prevalence of smallpox in near south and west side wards caused Health Commissioner Herman Bunden to call colored physicians, clergymen, and social workers to a conference in his office this morning.

Of the 123 victims of smallpox discovered since the first of the year, 101 were colored persons. These cases, as well as twenty-two white sufferers, are for the most part located east of State street, between 16th and 47th streets, and on Fulton street between Racine and Western avenues.

BRANCH BANKING IN CITIES WINS COMMITTEE O. K.

House Body Rejects Plan for States, Counties.

Washington, D. C., April 23.—[Special.]—Approval of city-wide branch banking by national banks was given today by the house committee on banking and currency. The committee rejected proposals for county-wide branch banking and for state-wide branch banking.

The committee perfected the sections of the McFadden bill revising the national bank act. As approved, the branch sections are substantially as carried in the original bill.

The section approved provides that branch banks shall be permitted for national banks in cities of 100,000 or more where similar branches are permitted by state laws for state institutions. The city-wide limitation was approved by a vote of 8 to 4. The state-wide proposal was rejected by a vote of 2 to 12 and the county-wide proposal by a vote of 3 to 11.

The provision is acceptable to Controller of the Currency Henry M. Dawes, who is against unlimited branch banking. It is not as broad as advocated by Vice Governor Edmund Platt of the federal reserve board.

The committee also approved a section of the bill restricting branch banking by state banks which enter the federal reserve system. This section was opposed by members of the federal reserve board. Under its operation state banks entering the system would be unable to form any new branches but branches previously established would not be affected.

'BOBBED' BANDIT AND HER MATE PLEAD GUILTY

New York, April 23.—[Special.]—Celia Cooney, the bobbed hair bandit, and her husband and partner in robbery, Edward Cooney, pleaded guilty today to charges of robbery in the first degree before Judge George W. Martin in Brooklyn. They will be sentenced next Tuesday.

With, respectively, three and four indictments against them, the girl bandit and her husband pleaded to one that charged robbery in connection with a holdup Feb. 2 at a Bohack chain store at 320 Lafayette avenue. One hundred and fifty dollars was taken in that robbery.

The Cooneys were taken to the courthouse after brief questioning in the office of District Attorney Dodd and after they had been identified by a large number of their victims and witnesses of their robberies at Brooklyn police headquarters.

Both were charged with assault, grand larceny, and robbery in connection with holdups at the National Biscuit company plant, a Butler chain store, and the Bohack robbery.

TODAY?

Just when it began to appear that everyone was about to forsake hearth and home to gallivant around in an automobile along came the radio to save the day—and the night.

The urge of the movie now has competition and, with the radio to help out mah jong, home life is being rediscovered by many a family that had almost forgotten its existence.

In the old days the head of the household who harbored a mean streak within him advertised himself by placing the morning paper in his pocket, when about to start for the scene of his labors; today he is known by his monopolization of the headphones and his refusal to install a loudspeaker so all the family can listen in.

The world grows smaller year by year; steamships and railroads helped; then the telephone and the telegraph; then the automobile and the flying machine; and now, with the radio, one may visit in Los Angeles, in Troy and in Havana within a few minutes.

But some people are slow of observation and forgetful. Just as many a home that could well afford a radio is still without one, so there are still a few people of average intelligence and average prosperity, in Chicago, who are not yet fully aware that for more than half a century Henrici's has set a standard of quality in food, service and environment that has never been approached elsewhere in America, without excessive cost.

Why not Henrici's for luncheon every business day?

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS.

Probably the principal thing of import in President Coolidge's talk to the members of the Associated Press in New York was his suggestion that France adopt the Dawes report. He said he hoped all the governments would find it commendable. That meant that he urged France to take it as a means of restoring Europe to a money making basis of substance and peace.

America is out of the matter officially, but Mr. Coolidge hopes that American capital will join in the loan proposed for Germany and thinks it might be a good use of the gold which has been coming over here. The United States cannot go very far in advice to Europe. We have taken the position wisely of deciding our own affairs for ourselves. That carries the question of allowing other nations to say for themselves what they think best for themselves.

Gen. Dawes and his American associates have given what they think will work Europe back into peace. It is a plan which does not commit the United States. If it works everybody will be better off, particularly the Germans and the French. Good conditions on the continent will help the British. They also will help America. Everybody will be better off if there is not a house afire in the middle of the block or one in which the family is in need because it has not been able to work the garden or get jobs for the sons.

We do not back the plan with any guarantees or responsibilities. If it fails to work we are not required to send men to make it work. It is a chance. Europe was fighting on one bank of the Rhine or the other long before this continent was discovered, and the advent of a new world has not changed the conditions much. If Europe decides that fighting along the Rhine is bad policy it will not be because of advice, money, or force from America.

Mr. Coolidge goes as far as he can when he says that he hopes France will accept and that he hopes American private capital will be engaged in good business abroad as soon as conditions are stabilized. He also indicated the Harding proposal to congress for adherence to the world court. Mr. Coolidge inherited this plan. He gives the appearance of liking it. The Tribune never has. It seems to be another instance in which the hopes of men outrun their experience. It is natural that hope always should, but it is an unwise dependence. We like arbitration and the avoidance of violence, but we do not have much faith in agreements made in a peaceful frame of mind and tested in temper.

Mr. Coolidge is willing to call another conference for the discussion of disarmament. We believe that the Washington gathering which resulted in the naval agreement did much more for peace than all the things which were done in Paris after the armistice and signed at Versailles as a treaty. That did not make peace. The Washington agreement stopped nations from building battleships against each other. It gives a breathing space of ten years. That was a reasonable undertaking. The nations will keep their agreements. Without them there might have been a war. We may only have delayed one, but we have done the best we could.

Possibly this could be carried further. The United States has reduced its military establishment virtually to zero. If another war comes, and it is of any consequence, it will be fought by half trained or untrained American soldiers. The American army is at this time a stop gap.

If other nations, now military, are willing to do what the United States has done and what Great Britain has done, both Americans and British should encourage them. We'll call it if they'll come. If Russia would send the recruits back to forming, Poland might. If Russia won't, Poland can't, in safety. There is generally the bug boy in the Sunday school.

Musical talks of spreading out to the old limits of the Roman empire. The empire staff is interesting. People like the parade of captives if they can get Dalmatians to drag them out of the forests and bring them to Rome. America is not seeking any captives. It has no Apollon way with the tombs of philosophers and soldier to inspire the legions as they go out to do the dirty work and to welcome them as they come home with the goods. Mr. Coolidge does not have to suggest to Europe that we'll disarm if Europe will. We have already, except in the case of the armed citizen who has a one hand gun when he gets mad. That's a domestic and not an international problem.

As a polite speaker Mr. Coolidge told his newspaper auditors that they were better than many criminal laws. He also said that one schoolmaster is better than many lawless and one clergyman is better than an army with banners.

Some solace must be given our idealism, and it is permitted at such gatherings. The President wished to be gracious to certain of our ideas which are better not examined. There are too many laws and there are all the editors who can make a living at it and some who can't. If we wanted order preserved in a court we'd prefer a ballist to a schoolmaster, and if the Japanese were landing

In California it would not do much good to send a preacher to meet them.

A public speaker of importance faces the fact that a democracy loves its Peter Rabbit bedtime story.

REAL CITY BUILDING.

John J. Sloan, president of the board of local improvements, announces that agreements have been reached between the city and various property owners which promise completion of the widening and double decking of South Water street, from Michigan avenue to Market street, in accord with the Chicago Plan commission's scheme, within three years. That is a great step forward for Chicago.

Details of the agreement are a minor incident in the life and progress of the city. The Tribune does not presume to say whether the immediate benefit is more accurately divided between the public and 52 per cent to the adjacent property owners than upon the proposed 35-65 basis, but we do believe almost any division is justified in order to put through the improvement. The same thought applies to the projected La Salle street bridge and street widening improvement.

Fifty years from now they both will appear to have been cheap at any price. It is such improvements, and the spirit which makes them possible, that render a city great and beautiful. Any such investment, regardless of the details of its financing, must pay huge dividends in the future growth and advantages of the city.

A notable illustration of that fact may be found in the great city of Paris. More than a century ago the authorities there perceived the necessity of some such improvements. New streets and boulevards were surveyed through some thickly settled districts. Many buildings were wrecked and perhaps some land arbitrarily confiscated. We do not know the exact method of financing or reimbursement. But we do know that these improvements are among the things which make Paris one of the most beautiful cities in the world today. We know also that the price paid at that time was far less than the price of similar improvements would be if undertaken today.

Chicago development now must inevitably work out in the same way. When such development can be assured by a reasonable adjustment between the most direct beneficiaries and the city as a whole, so much the better. With such spirit behind the material improvement the city's future is unlimited.

MURDER IN AMERICA.

Private justice was substituted for public justice Monday at the door of a Criminal court. Jack Rose was killed by Patrick Sexton, the father of a cap driver Rose was accused of shooting. There had been nine continuances of the trial granted. The ninth was just before the father shot.

The state's attorney says that this was not an unusually delayed case. It was proceeding in the accustomed order. The judges are busy and more cases are put on their calendars than they can hear. Some have to be deferred, and nine continuances were not out of order.

The father says he shot in self-defense. We do not know what his motives were, but take any ordinary person, embittered by the loss of a son in such fashion. He goes nine times into court to see what justice will do, and each time he walks out unsatisfied. Some people might have patience with the system. Some might be despairing but self-control. Some might give public justice up as a thing impossible of attainment.

Our system of criminal procedure has many apologists and some defenders. It is the creation of the counsel for the defense. It is in large part a failure. It is effective only with the negligible offender. A person of any consequence can get the better of it. We suffer from it. Because of it we are the most lawless English speaking people in the world.

We know little about cause and effect in our relations to crime. The murders of one Chicago ward may equal in one year all the murders in England. A murderer in England has one chance in 10,000 of being alive three months from the time of his crime. Consequently the English criminal knows that the penalty of murder is death. He does not want to die. He does not commit murder. The American criminal knows that he has one chance in a hundred of being hanged if he murders a person. He may have to stand a trial if he is caught red handed, but that will be months or years after the crime, and he has delay, the delay of witnesses, the ingenuity of criminal lawyers, the softness of jurors, the further delay of appeals, the chance of errors, and the final hope of executive clemency to cheer him on his way. He does not want to die. He does not think he will if he commits murder. He does commit murder.

The Other Side

CHICAGO DRAINAGE CANAL.

(Montreal Star.)

Unexpected weight has been lent to the arguments of those who are opposing the St. Lawrence deep waterway scheme by the action of the state of New York. A short time ago we pointed out the serious menace to lake ports involved in the diversion of an enormous volume of water from Lake Michigan for the purposes of the Chicago drainage canal. An injunction in the state court enjoining the sanitary district of Chicago from the further diversion of lake waters was issued in June last, and is to be served on members. The state of New York is joining with all states in opposing that petition. The grounds upon which its opposition is based are, briefly, that the diversion of Michigan waters by the Chicago drainage canal interferes with navigation by lowering levels; similarly, it causes loss to New York state by reducing the amount of electric power derivable from the Niagara and the St. Lawrence.

Type facts have already been established before the Illinois courts, and the entry of the state of New York and other states into the case is certain to strengthen the argument against the drainage canal. In the meantime the matter is at present actually before congress, as a bill to permit the withdrawal of 18,000 cubic feet of water per second from Lake Michigan for the purposes of the Chicago drainage canal system is under consideration. It is opposed by the attorney general of the state of Michigan, whose arguments are virtually identical with those set forth above, and who declares, in addition, that judgments of the higher courts have already established the illegality of one state withdrawing water to the detriment of another state. In this connection it may be as well to point out that while we in Canada have no agreement in regard to the drainage canal, there are international considerations of an obvious character that cannot be ignored by any border city seeking a solution of its drainage problems.

RINGSIDE WEIGHT.

A. E. asks: 1. Is it possible for a boxer who has gained thoroughly, and in doing so has lost a great deal of weight, to put on several pounds between weigh-ins in the afternoon and fighting time at night? The interval is six to eight hours. 2. If a boxer is to fight at 130 pounds would it be good judgment for him to weigh in at 115 pounds and then put on five pounds before he fights?

REPLY.

1. It is possible. When a boxer trains hard he first exhausts the excess of food-stuff in his blood and lymph. Next he uses up his excess of glycogen. Then he uses up the excess of fat which he had stored up in his liver, around his heart, on his intestinal coils, and under his skin. It is about what he expects to do. He knows that he has to accomplish between the time he starts training and the time when he starts drying out in immediate preparation for the fight. 2. The drying out for the fight he loses several pounds of water, which during that period he eats and drinks several pounds less water than he loses in sweat and otherwise. During a hard fight a prizefighter will lose five to ten pounds. Everybody was too hot, and then too cold. While the papers were retelling the cold wave at Kansas City, etc., there was a gentle, warm wind from the south for two or so days and I think the thermometer went up to 80 degrees. Everybody was too hot; we opened all the windows and during the night the wind changed to the north and the thermometer went to 28 degrees and a sleeted. We, being from the north, we put on our coats and stockings which we had taken off. My son slept in a glass-lined sleeping porch. Every window was closed and fastened. He had a sore throat and fever for two or three days. We called it breathing the cold air after being so warm. We did not call a doctor. He was not cold in bed.

We could not keep warm with a gas heater and we had to open the door when we lit the gas range, as it was not connected with any flue. A friend of ours who was raised there, a high school boy, told me that he had a very cold winter. He was cold in bed. A captain we met had the flu. Later his wife had it. It seemed to come on that cold wind or be produced by condensation of the air in the house. The baby across the street died of pneumonia. We lived in a typical house—called a good frame house.

WILLIAM ESTATES.

Chicago, April 20.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—The executor of an estate refuses to pay out enough fire insurance to cover the value of property. What can the heirs do in such a case? 2. A makes a will saying that his daughter whom he has named executor of his estate does not have to give bond. Can the other heirs compel her to give bond? 3. If a person has only a life interest in an estate under a will, can that person make a will disposing of the property or would such a will be worthless under the provisions of the first will?

D. T. D. 1. The term executor is ordinarily used with reference to an estate which has been decreed a will. The term trustee is used with reference to an estate upon which there is no will. The executor of a will is the one who takes care of the estate. The trustee is the one who takes care of the estate. 2. Yes, in the sense that the executor is the one who takes care of the estate. 3. No, in the sense that the executor is the one who takes care of the estate.

LET'S FARM IN SHARER.

Chicago, April 20.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A father retained for himself the use of a farm during his lifetime when he died it to his daughter ten years ago. He has since died and the daughter has since died. The farm is now in the hands of the executor of the daughter's estate. The executor is refusing to give the farm to the daughter's heirs. What can the heirs do?

WASHINGTON—Gen. Totten, chief engineer of United States cavalry, died an hour after the state confirmed his nomination as a major general. CHICAGO—Information is that the union losses in the three days' battle on the Red river in western Louisiana were 700 killed, 2,000 wounded, and 6,000 taken prisoners. The rebel loss was not less, except that they had but 300 men taken prisoners.

WASHINGTON—The formal dedication of Trinity Episcopal church, Jackson street, near Michigan avenue, will be occupied Vera Cruz. The American club and some American business establishments were stoned. Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American chargé, left Mexico City escorted by Gen. Huerta's chief of staff.

JUAREZ, Mex.—Gen. Villa, head of the northern Mexican rebel forces, announced that he refused to be drawn into the war with the United States.

WASHINGTON—Dr. Belva Lockwood issued a "call for peace" to the new women voters of Illinois. She urged them to demand that the government withdraw its troops from Mexico.

CHICAGO—The Federal League baseball park was dedicated by a 3 to 1 victory over the Kansas City Packers. The gates were closed to hold out crowds after the seats were filled.

CHICAGO—The engagement of Miss Marguerite Blackman of Hinsdale to James C. Bailey of that suburb was announced.

I SAW A STAR FALL.

I saw a star fall just before you spoke, I considered then why I should feel a pain Of fear and grief, why there should come again To me this childish lore of ignorant folk That thus the gods warn men that death is near, The sudden, treacherous death of something dear: I wondered then, but when you spoke I knew It was your love had died, and all my dreams of you. Perhaps the gods thought I could live my grief, Perhaps they thought that I could give my tears Another cause, that I could live these years That loom before me as an empty reel, Without you, and could still be happy, free, In other love, or in the memory Of you; perhaps they thought me stronger far Than what I am, and so they sent a star— A falling star, to tell the world tonight That to my love and life have come this death and blight.

Like a sudden glorious ray of sunshine, a too-brief glimpse of the exotic tropical beauty he loved, he was gone almost before we were aware of him. ## BILL—YOU STARTED SOMETHING.

R. H. L.: Bill spoke, and made me think some of us are forgetting a little. I choked down a lump in my throat when I read it and straightway organized a crowd of girls to go out to the Speedway and try to remember with such poor means as we have at our command—candy, cigarettes, dances, and Ethel plays the piano. As for me, all I can do is talk, but maybe that will help a little—our honored living.

Sto! Sto! You are Hurtig Us! Richard: How could Vangie get her little hoofs muddy when "Fardon Me" has provided a good paved road to Chicago Heights? Spicuous. And The Druher says she's a good girl. Oh well—maybe she had to detour—maybe.

Only in the novels do those things come to pass. It was promised to be delivered in three weeks—maybe—and the C. J. apparently thought that three weeks fly by on the wings of Mercury himself. They do, but not when you wear a MTL pin. Anyway, I'll get my pin—but what if I'm stooped and old and gray by that time?

A NICE DISTINCTION. R. H. L.: A clerk at the Old Corner Book Store told me that the King of the Black Isles charming volume of verse took hold at once here and has been extremely well received. There are verses and verses and verses, the young man said, "but these are poems." If he had said "verses and verses" I should have suspected him; but he said "verses and verses and verses," my admiration for the muse of Mr. Nicholson soared still higher. That is just the exact distance between Mr. Nicholson and these Wylies, Millays, Alcotts, Sandburgs—verses and verses and verses.

LAURA BLACKBURN.

IT is certainly hard to work on these lovely spring days. Always as we write we see the desert, the mountains, and the oceans of Arizona. And then we remember the nights in Arizona—nights when the thin, exhilarating air made us feel as though the Anti-Saloon league would arrest us if they caught us breathing it. Nights full of mystery. Nights when the stars seemed so near to us that we could almost have reached up our hands and touched them.

Arizona, get away from us! We've got to keep on working.

BOYCOTT OR BOOMERANG? Chicago, April 20.—To the Japanese, knowing the boycott in the hands of the Chinese has done to their trade with those craftiest of merchants, it is a formidable weapon, but they seem to be unaware that, used against American commerce in their country, it would be a boomerang. The trade figures tell the story. Japan imports from the United States goods to the average value of over $200,000,000.

"Cut it out," shout the angry Japanese. Try it, and see where you get off," reply the Americans.

These imports are mainly cotton, about a hundred million dollars; petrol and manufactured goods. Admit that the loss of a considerable portion of this cotton trade would be to our disadvantage.

Before becoming a law the McNary-Haugen bill will be pared down considerably, but the essential part, the far domestic price and the disposal of the surplus at the world price, will undoubtedly be carried into effectiveness.

The matter of government control of elevators and warehouses may be added. The latter, I think, tends to the bill that "red" aspect.

This semi-communistic idea has been tried out; we can only judge by experience and try something better. A recent measure, the Capper-Thomas grain futures act, didn't quite bring the relief that was expected from it.

EXPERT UPHOLDS DENBY'S GRANTS OF TEAPOT LEASE

Advised Drilling to Avoid Loss of Oil in Ground.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.
Washington, D. C., April 23.—(Special.)—Both the former secretaries of the navy who have been brought into the Teapot Dome party would have been pleased had they sat with the material oil investigators today.

Former Secretary Denby, who was selling the naval reserve oil out of the Teapot Dome, would have heard the expert who has come to the investigators this far.

Revises Old Fields.
That expert was young, clear headed and full of ideas, consulting petroleum engineer of Marietta, O., and Tulsa, Okla., and deviser of a method—which was for obtaining oil from apparently exhausted sands by forcing air into the sands.

Well, this practical oilist, who is also a university trained oilist, said this about the situation which might confront the American navy, were Teapot contents let lie in the ground:

"In 81 per cent of the Teapot Dome area the loss in twenty to thirty years would be 50 per cent of the oil recoverable by ordinary methods."

The real damage, Mr. Lewis said, would be by loss of gas pressure under the Teapot surface through the operation of wells near that area.

"With the loss of gas pressure," he said, "the oil is dead and capable of extraction only by artificial means. Such means at Teapot would not always be practicable."

"What was the right thing for the government to do in Teapot, in view of the perils of drainage and pressure reduction by commercial operations in nearby areas?" Senator Spencer asked.

"The government," Mr. Lewis replied, "should have gone in there and drilled immediately and drilled rapidly. The delay jeopardized the amount of oil."

Expert Advises Drilling.
Senator Spencer—Would damage from the loss of gas pressure be serious enough to require the leasing of all of Teapot?

Mr. Lewis—I would say develop the wells.
He added this important statement: "If Teapot were rapidly developed today, the recoverable oil could be got in two years. Otherwise, with the pressure exhausted, it would take many to fifty years and be very expensive. The loss of gas pressure would, in short, unfit Teapot for an emergency."

Mr. Lewis said the amount of oil in Teapot had proved "very disappointing"—12,000,000 to 24,000,000 of barrels instead of the bureau of mines estimate of 35,000,000.

All this testimony sustains Mr. Denby, who was for getting the oil out of the ground.

Mr. Daniels was for keeping it in.

PREPARE HOUSE BATTLE ON CHILD LABOR STATUTE

Washington, D. C., April 23.—(Special.)—Advocates and opponents of the proposed constitutional amendment to outlaw child labor are girding for a battle in the house on adoption of the resolution to submit the amendment to the states. Both sides are predicting victory. The house committee reported favorably, Representative Graham (Rep., Pa.), chairman, submitting a minority report signed by Representatives Montague (Dem., Va.), Dominick (Dem., S. C.) and Weller (Dem., N. Y.).

Under the proposed amendment Congress is given the power to regulate and prohibit the labor of children and young persons while power is at the same time reserved to the states to legislate with reference to such labor, by adopting standards higher than the national minimum standard likely to be adopted. Only when a state law conflicts with the federal law would the former be suspended.

WOMEN VOTERS REACH BUFFALO FOR CONVENTION

75 Illinois Delegates Head Westerners.

BY KATE WEBBER.
Buffalo, N. Y., April 23.—(Special.)—Bearing women from western states, led by an Illinois delegation of seventy-five, a special train arrived in Buffalo tonight, augmenting the 600 delegates to the fifth annual convention of the National League of Women Voters, to be held here for the next week.

On board were delegates and state officers from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Indiana, Ohio, Kansas, Nebraska, Nevada, and California. Plans for the next twelve months and accomplishments of the last year were discussed in the cars and over the baked ham "a la Catherine Hancock Goodie," so called after the next woman legislator from Chicago.

Illinois conferences included discussion of the state organization's favorite ideas, the national child labor amendment and the entry of the United States into a world court.

Miss Lathrop Named for Office.
The name of Miss Julia Lathrop, president of the Illinois league, undoubtedly will come up for nomination for first vice president, to succeed Miss Belle Sherwin of Ohio, who, it is expected, will become president. Mrs. Maud Wood Park, who has held this position since the league's formation is to retire on account of ill health.

A "sing" was held in the observatory car, with Mrs. Ella Wood Dean leading. The lyrics, composed by members, were set to popular music, and typified the perfect wife, mother, and citizeness, as impersonated by the woman voter.

Where last year's gathering at Des Moines was a "work convention," this week's sessions will be in the nature of a test for the league. It is its first opportunity to make definite plans for the calling out of 15 per cent of the 2,000,000 voters whom it represents in the coming presidential primaries.

Commend President's Speech.
President Coolidge's address at the annual luncheon of the Associated Press in New York on Monday undoubtedly will have a great influence on the action of the women, both in regard to limitation of armaments and effecting of a world conference to promote peace. During the day the board of directors of the league sent the following message to President Coolidge:

"The board of directors of the National League of Woman Voters, by a unanimous vote, express to you their deep appreciation of your action in reaffirming your approval of the entry of the United States into the permanent court of international justice."

Coolidge greets Chicago Women.
Washington, D. C., April 23.—(Special.)—Chicago clubwomen numbered 230, who are spending the week in Washington, were received today by President Coolidge and tonight held a reception at which the honor guests were the Secretary of Navy Curtis D. Wilbur and Mrs. Wilbur and Miss Mary Anderson of Chicago, chief of the women's bureau of the department of labor. Organized by Mrs. William Gary Brown of the Rogers Park Women's club, who has lectured on "Washington, the Capital City," before eighty Chicago clubs during the year, the party arrived Tuesday morning, and in the afternoon visited Mount Vernon.

EQUAL RIGHTS BILL DIVIDES 'VARSITY' WOMEN

Washington, D. C., April 23.—(Special.)—The proposed equal rights bill, sponsored by the National Woman's party, was the subject of heated debate today in the convention of the American Association of University Women, in the course of which the association split wide open and revealed itself as about evenly divided on the merits of the proposed measure.

The question came up when the report of the committee on legislative policies was presented proposing "continued opposition to the so-called equal rights amendment 'that men and women shall have equal rights throughout the United States and every place subject to its jurisdiction.'"

Before a motion could be made to adopt the report Dr. M. Carey Thomas, former president of Bryn Mawr college, introduced an amendment which would postpone consideration of the subject by the association for one year and would prevent the association or its officers from taking any position on the subject during that time.

A record vote was demanded, the result of which will be announced tomorrow.

EQUAL RIGHTS BILL DIVIDES 'VARSITY' WOMEN

Washington, D. C., April 23.—(Special.)—The proposed equal rights bill, sponsored by the National Woman's party, was the subject of heated debate today in the convention of the American Association of University Women, in the course of which the association split wide open and revealed itself as about evenly divided on the merits of the proposed measure.

The question came up when the report of the committee on legislative policies was presented proposing "continued opposition to the so-called equal rights amendment 'that men and women shall have equal rights throughout the United States and every place subject to its jurisdiction.'"

Before a motion could be made to adopt the report Dr. M. Carey Thomas, former president of Bryn Mawr college, introduced an amendment which would postpone consideration of the subject by the association for one year and would prevent the association or its officers from taking any position on the subject during that time.

A record vote was demanded, the result of which will be announced tomorrow.

AUSTRALIA KEPT FOR WHITES BY 50 WORD TESTS

Even Gaelic Used to Bar
Colored Races.

BY JACK MYERS.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]
SYDNEY, Australia, April 23.—The immigration laws of the commonwealth of Australia have worked remarkably smoothly and effectively in excluding colored and undesired persons from admittance to Australia, although no race, color, or country is specifically mentioned.

When the commonwealth was founded in 1901, White Australia was the dominant issue.

Long debates ensued as to the method of achieving the desired object. Finally it was resolved to attain the end without offending the feelings of other people affected, which included hundreds of millions of subjects of the British empire in India and elsewhere.

The act provides that in addition to desired persons, criminals and other undesirable, no one may enter the commonwealth who fails to pass a dictation test of fifty words in any prescribed language and who fails to write out the words in that language in the presence of the dictating officer.

The prescribed language includes any European language.

Although there is no direct statutory sanction in the instructions, the officers have always excluded through the dictation test all colored people, including, of course, Japanese, Chinese and East Indians. The wide range of European languages generally enables the officers to choose one with which the undesirable immigrant is not familiar.

One case occurred recently of a highly intellectual man whom it was not regarded desirable to admit. He knew and spoke fluently English, French, German, Dutch, Italian, and Spanish. Finally an Irish officer was selected to impose the dictation test in Gaelic. This proved the necessary obstacle.

The clause also occasionally is used to exclude undesirable whites not prohibited by other clauses.

One of the customs officers who administers the act asserts the clause has created without the slightest difficulty and it has worked in every respect intended. The dictation test may be imposed at any time within three years after the immigrant enters the commonwealth. Bona fide merchants, tourists, and students are exempted from the provisions of the act while they remain genuinely such.

Heavy Penalties Imposed.

Heavy penalties are exacted for evasion of the immigration act. The master of a vessel allowing prohibited immigrants to land is fined $100 (roughly $440) for each person, and must transport them back to the country of their origin. Persons assisting in contravening the act or concerned in the landing or concealing of prohibited immigrants are liable to six months' imprisonment and a fine of $100.

The Japanese could easily land from small boats from islands to the north, but there is no indication of any considerable immigration from this source. In any case the new arrivals would soon be discovered if they appeared at even the smallest towns.

JAPAN DECIDES FOR POLICY OF NO RETALIATION

Nation Hopeful of Coolidge Veto.

TOKIO, April 23.—[By the Associated Press.]—Reports on the American immigration legislation as it affects Japan were submitted to a meeting of the privy council today by Premier Kiyoura and Foreign Minister Matsui. It is understood the council generally endorsed the government's conduct in the matter.

Extra precautions have been ordered by the police to protect the persons and property of American residents of Tokyo. Although some "patriots" are distributing handbills warning of the approach of a Japanese-American war, thus far there have been no untoward incidents.

Caution Against Violence.

Many speakers, while bitterly attacking the United States as a nation, are cautioning their audiences against violence locally, pointing out this would only be a boomerang to Japan.

There are strong indications the government will maintain its policy against retaliation and will be able to enforce it. Calmness prevails in Tokyo due partly to a still lingering hope that President Coolidge will veto the anti-Japanese amendment and partly to the realization of leaders here that retaliation not only would be futile but also would result in greater damage to Japan than to America, since economic relations between the two countries are more vital to Japan than to the United States.

Ask Coolidge to Veto.

OSAKA, Japan, April 23.—[By the Associated Press.]—Resolutions appealing to President Coolidge to veto immigration legislation which would exclude Japanese from the United States were adopted today at a mass meeting held here under the auspices of newspapers and the Federation of Mercantile Guilds and attended by several thousand Japanese.

Speakers, most of them newspapermen, argued that the pending legislation did not represent the real American public opinion. They voiced gratitude for the stand taken by some of the influential newspapers in the United States against the exclusion measure, and appealed to the "American sense of justice and fair play" to prevent the bill from becoming a law.

THEY'LL SPEAK A MINUTE.

Speed in oratory will be heard this noon when a score of committee chairmen of the Kiwanis club of Chicago give one minute addresses on the activities of their committees. The meeting will be held in the Hotel Sherman.

THE BALLOON-TIRED REO SEDAN RE-CREATES MOTORING THRILLS

TO ride in a balloon-tired Reo is to experience a new sensation in motoring. Cushioned on low-pressure air, supplemented by softly-yielding long springs and the inner-framed cradling of power units, the Reo Sedan delivers bump-proof riding on even the roughest roads.

The difference between riding in a balloon-tired Reo Sedan and the ordinary pneumatic tired car is comparable to that between the latter and a solid tired vehicle. There is that much more comparative comfort to passengers; and that much more comparative protection to the mechanism.

Shock-proof travel permits maintained speeds. With 75% more tire-to-road contact, driving is safer in ruts, sand and loose gravel. And due to the same reason, skid-proof braking—quick and positive—becomes an actuality.

Mounted on the famous Reo high-powered six-cylinder chassis, the Reo Sedan has developed goodness and balanced quality. A Reo entirety,—manufactured, not assembled,—it has power, fleetness and flexibility for every condition of city and highway driving.

Because of engine compactness—hood-length is converted into body roominess. By means of the Reo dual-foot control, driving is simplified and front-compartment cleanliness is emphasized. And due to balloon tires, a low-hung chassis, equitable distribution of weight and super-powerful brakes, driving safety is given new meaning.

Underneath where irritation starts
the real trouble is reached and soothed away

DO NOT expect ordinary surface remedies to remove a rash, eczema or itching skin disorder. Not on the outside, but down in the under layers of the skin is the real trouble.

Pores clogged with poisonous germs, body cells and tissues swollen and inflamed—these are what must be soothed back to normal before a skin disorder will disappear.

Yet there is a way that brings almost immediate relief. To cleanse the pores, kill germs, and start the skin again acting normally, physicians have for twenty-eight years been prescribing Resinol in their daily practice.

If you have today any spot, rash or irritation on your skin, apply this soothing, healing ointment. Spread a coating on the affected surface and smooth it in very gently with the fingers. One application will, in many cases, stop the itching completely. Resinol is absolutely harmless. It will not irritate an infant's delicate skin, or even raw exposed flesh. Get a jar at your druggist's today, or send for a free trial sample to Dept. 26, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

RESINOL

Recommended for 28 years by leading physicians

Microscopic cross-section of the layers of skin. It is in the under layers that the irritation lies.

Made for Men Who seek these results from Shaving Cream

By V. E. CASSADY, Chief Chemist

GENTLEMEN:

Some years ago we set out to create the ideal Shaving Cream. We were qualified, as you know. This laboratory is 60 years old. It has created, for every purpose, some of the greatest soaps. One of them has become the leading toilet soap of the world.

First we asked 1,000 average men to tell us what they most desired.

Then step by step—by making and testing 130 separate formulas—we met those desires to the utmost.

The result is a new attainment, better in at least 5 ways than any shaving cream you know.

Men have welcomed it as they never have welcomed anything else in this line. Millions of delighted men have changed from old-type shaving creams.

So will you when you know.

The results men wanted

Abundant lather. Palmolive Shaving Cream multiplies itself in lather 250 times.

Quick action. It softens the beard in one minute.

Lasting lather. It maintains its creamy fullness for ten minutes on the face.

A clean shave. The extra strong bubbles hold the hairs erect for cutting, so they don't lie down.

No irritation. The palm and olive oil content leaves the face in fine condition.

Let this test prove that we have secured these wanted effects—as no one else has done. Do this in fairness to yourself and us. Clip coupon now.

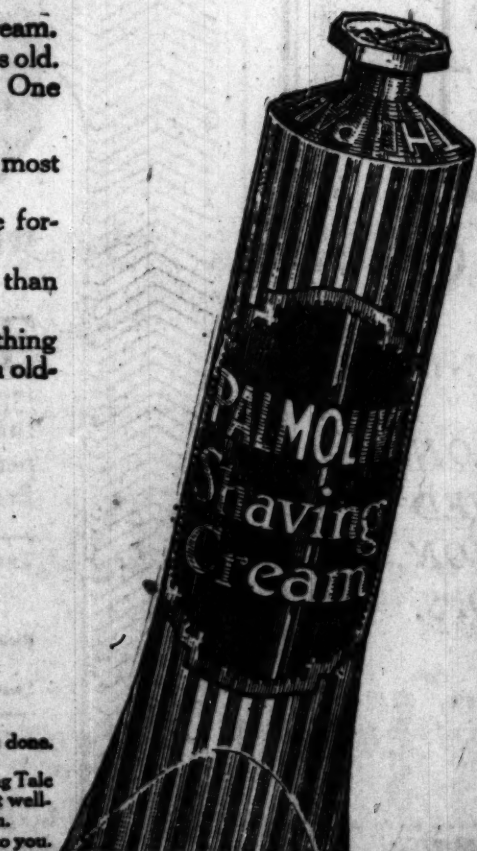

To add the final touch to shaving luxury, we have created Palmolive After Shaving Tale—especially for men. Doesn't show. Leaves the skin smooth and fresh, and gives that well-groomed look. Try the sample we are sending free with the tube of Shaving Cream.

There are new delights here for every man who shaves. Please let us prove them to you.

"FIRES OUT AND TAXES DOWN" IS FOREST SLOGAN

Encouragement Needed for Tree Growing.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Taxation, next to the fire problem, is regarded as the most important factor in the regrowing of our vanished forests. "Keep the fires out and the taxes down" was set up as one basic principle by a congressional committee last year after a nation-wide survey. It is one of the slogans of fire protection week, now being observed.

In many timber regions, state taxes have been so high that they have been an incentive to the owner to chop down his trees and get them to the mill as quickly as possible. Frequently the taxes on woodland are high enough to absorb the annual increment of value through natural growth, and even higher.

The annual taxation compels taxes to be paid many times on the same growing crop, and it hastens the denuding of the forest trees. At the same time state taxes, in some commonwealths, discourage the reforestation of cut-over lands.

For years the forest service has been saying that one great need is a system in the states that will defer the principal burden of taxation on growing forests to the time that the trees are cut. Several states have already acted in recent years in passing laws which embody the "yield tax." This taxes the land annually, but the timber only when cut.

Private Timber Growing.
Affairs have reached the point where private reforestation in many localities is financially profitable. Prices are up for one thing. For another, transportation has come to be a great factor in cost, and it keeps growing greater.

the further lumber supplies have to be carried to the consuming market. Two things deemed essential to encourage private regrowing of timber are the adjustment of tax laws to timber crops and the protection of forest land from fire, insects and diseases. Not so many years ago, the timberland was so abundant and deemed so inexhaustible, that it did not pay owners in dollars and cents to grow trees on denuded land.

Michigan Cut-over Land.
Up to 1890, land clearing for agriculture ran ahead of lumbering, but ever since then the land has been logged off much more rapidly than it has been taken up by agriculture. Michigan, for instance, had 15,500,000 acres of cut-over lands. At the present rate of settlement, the forestry service estimates it would require 380 years to settle the Michigan cut-over tracts.

In the upper peninsula, where virgin timber could be homesteaded thirty years ago, it would take no less than 800 years to settle the cut-over land at the present rate. In Minnesota it would take nearly a century to absorb into farms the best part of the cut-over land now idle. Wisconsin now has 13,000,000 acres of cut-over and idle lands.

Vast Tracts Idle.
So the old tradition that all denuded forest land is being taken by agriculture went aglimmering many years ago. The fact is that the area of cut-over or burned over forest land that has not been transformed to agricultural use now reaches the staggering total of 181,000,000 acres.

Several of the states have embarked on reforestation programs, notably Pennsylvania, Michigan, and Massachusetts. Under Gov. Pinchot, former chief forester of the United States, Pennsylvania is growing trees on bald hill and mountain sides, a highly organized fire protection service has been developed, and young trees are being distributed.

Tree Growing Encouraged.
Michigan, which a decade ago started a program, is just completing a thorough survey—the state is increasing its holdings of cut-over lands due to unpaid taxes, and Gov. Groesbeck is hammering away at the reforestation problem. Tax laws have been changed to encourage tree growing. In some regions great areas have been burned over so repeatedly, with destruction to the seed and soil, that tree growing may prove difficult, but replanting is encouraged through tax laws which collect only a nominal tax on lands registered as timber growing lands.

In congress a bill is pending aiming to increase the effectiveness of the fight against forest fires to extend public ownership of lands more suitable to reforestation than to agriculture and to encourage private owners to regrow trees. It is regarded by the lumber industry as a great step forward.

Mothers!! Apply Common Sense

THIS is the era of the prevention of disease and sensible people do not wait until sickness has actually come before remedying the trouble. The crowded hospitals everywhere are sad examples of the results of neglect. Be especially watchful of children. Restlessness, lack of normal appetite and feverishness usually indicate constipation. Stop it that instant with a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and you will have prevented real sickness. Mrs. Ida Williamson of 1637 Pine St., Long Beach, Cal. and Mrs. Lou Brawley of Self, Ark., never have illness in the family because of their prompt use of Syrup Pepsin.

A Great Family Laxative
It may be difficult to decide just what medicine to use out of the many that are offered, but it would not be if you knew the facts. There are laxatives, cathartics, purgatives and physics, and they vary in their reaction on the system. Naturally, the stronger the medicine the more it shocks the system, so wise parents never give anything but a laxative to children. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a mild laxative, a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and desirable aromatics, and so appreciated that it is now the largest selling preparation of its kind in the world, over 10 million bottles being used annually. The formula is on every package.

Three Rules of Health
Purchase a bottle of Syrup Pepsin at a drug store and always keep one in the family medicine chest. Give it to anyone from infant to grandparent, for it is safe, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. You can keep a family healthy with just this simple medicine. Give it for constipation, torpid liver, indigestion, biliousness, headaches, colds and other evidence of bowel obstruction. Dr. Caldwell, who was a practicing physician for 47 years and who originated this formula, had three rules of health that he found very effective among his patients and which you can follow with great benefit: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, and the bowels open.

Send If You Want to Try It Free Before Buying.

Now—He Owns His Apartment

THE landlord raised his rent. He and his wife spent hours and days hunting for a satisfactory apartment at a price they could afford to pay. Then he read an Andridge ad telling him how much he could save by owning his apartment.

He Thought It Was Too Good To Be True

So he hunted for several days more. The apartments he and his wife liked were too high. The ones they could afford weren't desirable.

Then He Let Us Show Him

just how it is possible to save 35 cents out of the renter's dollar. He let us figure his savings under The Andridge Plan and saw that in five years' time he really could save enough to cover his original purchase price. Then he and his wife visited an Andridge building and found in it just the home they were looking for. The terms offered him made it easy for him to purchase.

Now He Owns His Apartment

It costs him just $42.87 a month to maintain his four-room home. He has neighbors of the right sort. He is close to transportation, banks, stores, schools, churches and recreation centers. His home is planned and equipped for daily comfort. He and his wife are delighted.

BRITAIN OPENS EMPIRE EXHIBIT WITH ROYAL POMP

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, April 23.—King George saw his empire in miniature today and had clear evidence of its loyalty to his throne and the house of Windsor.

Every part of the wide-flung dominions was represented at the opening ceremony of the British Empire exhibition at Wembley, which is designed to knit closer the units of the empire.

From early morning until nearly 11 o'clock, when the ceremony began, crowds poured into the 220-acre grounds which had been converted into a model of the empire. The vast stadium which seats 125,000 was filled before 10 o'clock and twice as many wandered about the grounds in the hope of getting a glimpse of the royal pageant. Inside the stadium a royal enclosure was erected at one end in colors of red, purple and gold. In the center of the enclosure were twin thrones for the king and queen.

Military Bands Abound.

Directly opposite more than 1,000 white-robed choristers from St. Paul's, Westminster Abbey and other leading churches were massed with a scarlet uniformed band from the school of military music, giving a spate of color which contrasted against the white.

In the center of the stadium the beautiful greensward on which football matches are played was occupied by massed bands of all the guards regiments. These marched in led by the pipers of the Scotch and Irish guards. A double company of guards with scarlet coats and knapsacks as worn in the battle of Waterloo lined up in front of the royal stand, and on the sides were similar detachments from the navy and the air force.

King and Queen Arrive in State.

The king and queen arrived in a magnificent state coach with riders in scarlet and gold uniforms and accompanied by detachment of Life Guards. With them, in other state coaches, were the Duke and Duchess of York, Princess Mary, Lord Leinster, and a number of lords and ladies in waiting. The king was received by the Prince of Wales as the president of the reception.

The king's speech opening the exhibition was distinctly heard all over the stadium and was broadcast all over the British Isles. Immediately after the conclusion of the address the king sent a telegraphic message around the world to all British territories. The message was returned to Wembley eighty seconds after it had been sent. It read:

"I have this moment opened the British Empire exhibition."

The exhibition itself will not be entirely completed for another fortnight.

BRENTANO SAVES U. S. YOUTH FROM ROPE IN HUNGARY

BY RAYMOND FENDRICK.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BUDAPEST, Hungary, April 23.—John Bartles, an American citizen, has just had a narrow escape from being hanged in Hungary for refusing to do compulsory military service.

The peace treaty forbids compulsory military service in Hungary, but in the country districts of the nation all boys are now being forced to undergo military training, and the interned military control commission knows of at least 100 cases where boys who have complained to it against this service have been secretly court-martialed for high treason and executed.

Bartles, who has just come of age, was born at Johnstown, Pa., of Hungarian parents who returned to Hungary a few years ago. Although an American citizen, he was notified to start his compulsory service last week. He was threatened with a court-martial and hanging if he refused to obey the order.

The boy came secretly to Budapest, where he called on Judge Theodore Brentano, the American minister. The latter asked Washington to issue an immediate passport, and he also notified the Hungarian authorities that he would hold them responsible if any harm came to the lad.

The Hungarian government refused for several days to release Bartles from service, and Sir William Goode, Canadian financial adviser, who is arranging a $50,000,000 Hungarian reconstruction loan, intervened and forced his release to prevent the flotation of the loan in America from being endangered.

TILDIEN DEMURS AT "LITTLE CHAT" WITH NET CHIEFS

Philadelphia, Pa., April 23.—William T. Tilden, national tennis champion, today declined the invitation of Julian S. Myrick, chairman of the American Davis cup committee, to discuss his recent resignation from the Davis cup and Olympic teams at a conference in New York on Friday.

Mr. Tilden stated that he had a previous engagement to play in exhibition tennis in the south. Calling attention to the dispute over his status as an amateur because of his activity in writing articles on tennis, Mr. Tilden stated that he would not have offered his services for this year to the executive committee of the United States Lawn Tennis association had he been aware of the technical nature of the rule on amateurs, adopted March 15, 1924, by the amateur committee of that body.

Cautious but Decided.

In a letter to Mr. Myrick, Mr. Tilden said in part:

"I am glad to point out that the amateur rule of the Davis cup committee was made public and I should have known of it at that time."

"I am glad to point out that the amateur rule of the Davis cup committee was made public and I should have known of it at that time."

Mr. Tilden stated that he had a previous engagement to play in exhibition tennis in the south.

Calling attention to the dispute over his status as an amateur because of his activity in writing articles on tennis, Mr. Tilden stated that he would not have offered his services for this year to the executive committee of the United States Lawn Tennis association had he been aware of the technical nature of the rule on amateurs, adopted March 15, 1924, by the amateur committee of that body.

MOON MULLINS—THE VOICE FROM ABOVE

30 States and Provinces in Oak Park's Title Open Prelim

By Joe Davis. Entries for the twenty-eighth open championship of the United States Golf association will close May 14. The fee is $5 and must be sent to 110 East 42d street, New York City. No post entries will be accepted. This fee covers the entry for the sectional qualifying rounds to be staged at Worcester, Mass., and Oak Park, Country club here, May 27 and 28. Entries from amateurs will be received only from players listed in the U. S. G. A. eligibility list.

36 States and Provinces.

The western section comprises: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Washington, Wisconsin, Wisconsin, and the provinces of Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, Canada.

Eligible players will qualify for the championship proper at the Oakland Hills club at Detroit, June 5 and 6, and the number of qualifiers allotted to each section will be pro rated according to the number of players from that section.

Over 150 May Play Here.

It is expected the field at Oak Park will number between 150 and 200. The prize money for the thirty-six holes of play in the qualifying rounds will be $200, $150, $125 and $100. Scores made in the qualification round do not count in the seventy-two hole finals at Detroit.

The prize list for the championship proper totals $1,745, ranging from $500 to $55, the latter being twelfth money.

The qualifying rounds will be conducted under the supervision of the Professional Golfers' association.

Should the entries in either section exceed 200 the P. G. A. will announce a change in the qualifying conditions.

At a meeting of officers of the Illinois Golf association yesterday the date of the spring tournament at the Peoria Country club was changed to May 25 because the date previously named conflicted with the national open championship at Detroit.

The Chicago players will leave on a special car over the Rock Island May 21.

President W. M. Reay of Briarcliff yesterday announced his club had completed its bond issue and now owns the property outright. The membership list has been closed at 325.

The western junior championship will be staged Aug. 12 to 15. The course is now open, with the regular greens in service.

Elmhurst Golf club opened its regular greens this week.

Plans for a four ball match at the opening of the Palos Hills Forest preserve course on Sunday afternoon have been altered, and instead Chick Evans, western amateur champion, will meet Jack Hutchinson, western champion, in an eighteen hole match at 3:30.

The Galewood Daily Pro course, which will occupy the old Westward Ho course, will open Saturday. The club will have half hourly bus service from Oak Park avenue and the Lake Street 'L' road on Saturdays and Sundays.

The new Wilmette Golf club will open its course Saturday, weather permitting. If not possible to open Saturday, play will be started the following day.

If You Want—

- Happiness, be content with what you can afford.
- Wealth, enlarge your capacity to enjoy life.
- Friends, be charitable of others' faults.
- Promotions, be bigger than the job you're in.
- Fame, do some necessary thing better than it has ever been done.
- Popularity, be good natured when criticized.
- Peace, keep on good terms with your conscience.

Keep Looking Young

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a yellow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a listless look in your eyes—sickness—no more. Your doctor will tell you that ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color, the size and shape.

New Set of 'R's' Is Making Americans at Motley School

Seven hundred little Polish girls saluting the Stars and Stripes, their tired, dreamy eyes mother drinking tea with "teacher"—are bits of the Girls' week program planned by the Motley school at Ada street and Chicago avenue. For Americanization is stressed at all times in that little foreign district where the principal, Miss Miriam Del Banco, has the confidence and support of the parents who understand no English but do "what teacher says."

"Reverence, respect, and responsibility—those are our 'three R's,'" laughed Miss Del Banco in the quiet office whose bright flowers, pictures, and silver trophies furnish the only beauty children may know. "Rithme's a lost word—first we must teach them the English language."

She was interrupted by a foreign father who wanted her to get his son dismissed from juvenile court; she did. Then a shamed boy of 15, who'd been playing truant to "bum around with a bad gang." When mothers have failed—or are drunk; when parents are evicted for not paying rent; when fathers are out of work—all their troubles are brought to the school that is community center, relief station, hospital, and interpreter of the American law.

Sturdy boys in blue overalls marched down the hall. "Cleanup week," she said, "and they're working in a neighboring alley. The English language, then cleanliness, then ideals of living—these are our main problems. The crowded conditions, five and six living in one room, utter ignorance of sanitation, poverty, all make for immorality."

"Moonshine also plays a prominent part, as nearly all of them manufacture it. One little girl, asked to draw a picture of 'What mamma is doing today,' gave the teacher a drawing—not of a figure washing or ironing—of a stove with a pipe running into a jug, with the proud announcement, 'My mamma's makin' hooch!'"

Somewhat modified, indeed, this principle is applied in the model shown today. The printed crepe which fashions the dress is set off by bands and trimming of honey-colored crepe. Over the front of the skirt falls an apron plaited at the side and sponsoring pockets stitched over the plait. The collar, the inset in the waist, and the jabot are all of the plain crepe, decorated with French knots. Here we find a number of the most frequently repeated style-points—the apron skirt, the jabot, and the straight loose sleeve. For all informal occasions this type of dress is firmly established at winter resorts, will be our best friend through the coming season.

Printed alpaca for grownups and children relieve crepes and silks in the work of supplying gay patterns for summer wear. Already they are leagued together against the initial complicity of gingham, linen, and velvets. For these are equally endowed with bright designs and striking plaids. Indeed, according to the fabric forecast we are not going to have a dull moment—not even when we take our conscientious dip in the surf. For even then we can, if we choose, drape ourselves in printed silk brilliant enough to dazzle the flying fish.

Men's Fashions

BY A. T. GALICO.
Ties of the Week.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—If you are still in doubt as to an attractive tie to wear with your new smoke blue spring suit, you might try one similar to the one we selected for this week's tie. It consists of an all-over figure design punctuated with stripes of contrasting color. The colorings we noted ran as follows:

Tan stripes on a smoke blue background, light gray stripes on a dark gray background, tan stripes on a brown background, gray stripes on a smoke blue background, and lavender stripes on a purple background. Any of these ties could be worn with a suit of any shade of blue. The tan and blue, tan and brown, and lavender and purple combinations are possibilities with a tan or a brown suit, and all but the tan and blue, and tan and brown would harmonize with a gray suit.

We are deluged with letters requesting appropriate color schemes with various suits. It is impossible to give full details to each reader who wants to know what to wear with his blue, brown, or gray suit. We try to give sufficient suggestions in this column so that every suit in every reader's wardrobe may be taken care of for one color combination at least. Our suggestion is that you try to apply each hint we offer here to one of your own suits. Every dark blue suit takes the same treatment. There are, of course, innumerable suitings using dark blue as a background, with all stripes of contrasting colors. In such cases we always mention the color of the stripe, and show how it is related to the color scheme.

Girls' Week Attains Climax This Evening with Great Pageant

BY LOUISE JAMES BARGELT.

Today's the big day in the history of the first Girls' Week in Chicago. Yesterday was full of interest along the line of the various arts, but today is occupations day, with department stores and business houses, clubs and social centers, and hospitals for nurses all featuring the business and professional opportunities now open to women.

The activities start at noon with a luncheon of 400 girls at Marshall Field & Co. They are girls less than 18 years old in the retail and wholesale houses, and there will be talks by girls of Marshall Field & Co. who have made good.

In the afternoon open house will be kept by the Vocational Guidance bureau, 460 South State; Chicago Teachers' college, 701 Runt; North Kindergarden college, 2344 Michigan; William Wrigley Jr.; the Illinois Bell Telephone Company, central branch Y. W. C. A.; and a large number of hospital schools for nurses, including Presbyterian, St. Joseph's, Michael Reese, and St. Luke's.

In the evening at the Chicago Woman's club the Chicago Federation of Girls' clubs, representing thirty-eight clubs, will hold a banquet. Judge Mary Bartelme will speak.

At the Art Institute will be the Girls' pageant at 8 o'clock. Some 300 school and business girls will take part. The pageant, which was written and directed by Miss Flora S. Wolfson of the playground department of the board of education, will be open to the public, with no admission charge. Girls and women are specially invited.

Tomorrow evening the John Kinzie school, which is sister school to visit with us, will give a special program. In addition to numbers by the girls' chorus, the dramatic class will put on a play entitled "The Modern Gypsy."

Moore Circus Opens Today. Today is Indiana day at the Moore circus, which opens a nine day engagement at the Ashland Auditorium, Ashland boulevard and Van Buren street, this evening. Lodges from Hammond, East Chicago, Gary, Whiting, and Indiana Harbor, as well as other nearby Indiana cities, will attend the entertainment.

Rummage Sale for O. E. S. Madison chapter No. 689, O. E. S., will hold a rummage sale at 704 North Clark street today, tomorrow, and Saturday.

Informal Dancing Party. Rosary court, No. 694, C. D. of A., will hold an informal dancing party tomorrow evening at the Chicago Lincoln club, Germania place and Clark street.

ENGAGEMENT. Announcement has been made by Mrs. Frederick Charles Bulkley of Oklahoma City, Okla., of the engagement of her only son, Frederick, to Donald West Jaacks, son of Andrew Jaacks of River Forest.

Mrs. Katharine Gillett-Hill and her sister, Miss Jessie D. Gillett, of the note, had a company of ten at luncheon today in their home on R street.

RECOVERIES IN STOCKS SPREAD OVER ENTIRE LIST

YESTERDAY'S AVERAGES

	High	Low	Last	Chg.
25 railroads	61.94	61.45	61.75	+ .30
25 industrials	103.18	102.33	102.60	+ .27
50 stocks	83.58	82.84	83.26	+ .32

The New York Times

New York, April 23. (Special.)—Today's rather numerous recoveries of a point or more in the industrial shares had no more visible significance than another change of direction in the narrow swing of prices.

Not to go back further than a week, the stock exchange had been favored with advancing prices on three successive days and by declines on the next three; so that, under the highly mechanical program of the professional operators, should provide have been scheduled for an advance again. That the "average" after all the intervening forward and backward movements, should have ended today almost exactly where they stood a week ago, was only the familiar alibi on the market's behavior.

Advances of one to two points or more occurred in such stocks as Sugar, Cuba Cigar, Corn, and General Electric. The advance, however, was spread over the entire list. Steel, oil, and copper all gave a good account of themselves. Except for the usual amount of investment buying, which is always witnessed on a declining market, public participation in the market continued on a small scale.

Brokers, who make a practice of lending stocks to speculators who bid stocks short, today reported that the demand for speculative issues at the opening of business was the largest witnessed in many months. Experienced traders estimated that the stock interest now outstanding must be larger than has been in force at any time since the market started upward in October, last year.

Both sterling and franc advanced in the London market before the New York opening to prices higher than any yet touched. The early Wall Street rates also went above Tuesday's highest; the franc at 8.85 cents, selling at slightly more than double the 2.43 price of March 5.

The Chicago Tribune sells groceries throughout Illinois, Indiana, Iowa Michigan and Wisconsin

PROOF—specific, convincing—is here offered in support of the above statement.

It is hard to believe that a newspaper reaching almost every worth-while home in the city of publication can also move merchandise from the shelves of thousands of groceries in other cities.

That Chicago Tribune circulation in each of 1,064 towns and cities amounts to one-fifth to three-fifths of the number of families is a statistical fact we have often presented. This page goes a step farther and offers testimony of grocers as to the power of The Tribune to effect sales in their stores.

"Do you believe advertising in The Chicago Tribune helps the sale of advertised brands in your community?" was the question answered by 1,334 grocers in communities outside Chicago.

"Yes," said 1,108 grocers—83% of the total. Many grocers volunteered illuminating comments on their experiences with products advertised in The Tribune.

Grocers Stock Products Advertised in The Chicago Tribune

To manufacturers and packers of grocery specialties who want to build sales in the largest and richest zone market in the world, the replies will have triple significance. They are direct evidence of consumer response to Tribune advertising. They prove that the same advertising effects wide dealer distribution. And they show that grocers themselves watch Tribune advertisements in order to keep in touch with new food products. For instance:

"Indeed we do. In fact, we often stock new products due to W. G. N. advertising."

Boyd Redner & Son, Dowagiac, Mich.

"Absolutely. We always read the advertisements in The Tribune and are never cautious in buying the goods advertised, because we know hundreds of other people who read The Tribune also know about these advertised goods."

J. P. Halligan Co., Beardstown, Ill.

"It sure helps to sell advertised brands. Proper advertising of a staple item in The Chicago Tribune means that the goods are half sold, when displayed in a visible place in the store."

Economy Grocery & Market Co., Hammond, Ind.

"I believe it does. I have many calls for different articles advertised in your paper."

James Yager, Bourbon, Ind.

"Sure thing. Just look at 'Savoy.' Every time a 'Savoy' ad appears in The Tribune, we feel the effects immediately in acceptance that the 'Savoy' brand enjoys among our patrons."

B. W. Gostomski, LaSalle, Ill.

"I certainly do. I have sold lots of goods by the help of Tribune advertising—goods that people in my community were not in the habit of using before."

Hans H. Hansen, Buchanan, Mich.

"I believe that it does. The only way we have of knowing the effect of Tribune advertising is when some new article is advertised and a customer asks for it, stating that the advertisement caused her to inquire."

Heiken & Silldorff, Chatsworth, Ill.

"Yes. The Chase & Sanborn advertisements run in The Tribune have been brought to our attention several times by our trade."

John E. Mooney, Clinton, Ia.

"Yes. We are positive in saying that the influence of The Tribune is noticeable on our customers and adds to our sales."

Simon Brothers, Springfield, Ill.

"Absolutely. We have a great many Tribune readers in this community and any article continuously advertised in your paper is sure to move."

George Ohse, Yorkville, Ill.

"Yes. The Tribune is especially strong in introducing new items of merchandise."

Olds Brothers, Hartford, Mich.

Chicago Tribune Advertising Sells the Dealer

"Tribune advertising certainly helps. Keep anything before the people and they will ask for it. That is the reason I carry advertised brands. Quick turnover is what counts."

G. D. Cramer, Lincoln, Ill.

"Yes. The only way to sell goods is advertising in daily papers that have the circulation, as The Tribune has. No merchant can sell goods that he keeps under the counter. Goods will not sell unless you keep them before the people."

De Scherlin, Prairie du Chien, Wis.

"Yes. When a firm advertises an article in The Tribune, even an unheard of article, I always buy from the salesman. As soon as we are assured of Tribune ads, we know that there will be calls for the product."

E. F. Rosenberg, Elmhurst, Ill.

"Yes. I think the daily Tribunes which come to this locality go to men who wish to keep in touch with the outside world. Your Sunday edition enters the home, is read by all members of the family and is therefore the best for advertising foods."

Carl K. Barney, Marion, Ind.

"Very much so. One example is the Savoy advertising. I know it is helping our sale of Savoy products."

Bremner & Son, Maywood, Ill.

"Yes. I am sure of it. When a customer sees a new brand in The Tribune, she asks about it when she comes to the store."

B. B. McGee, Darlington, Wis.

"It sure pays to advertise. We notice the effect of food advertising in The Chicago Tribune constantly."

M. A. Hacker, Forrest, Ill.

Plan Store Display to Follow Tribune Advertising

"Yes. We follow The Sunday Tribune ads and on Mondays make a special display of the goods that are advertised."

E. D. Miller & Co., Stockton, Ill.

"Yes. It doesn't take long for a Tribune campaign to be felt by the retailer."

Baeball & Dorman, Chenoa, Ill.

"Yes. I have goods in my store that are just as good and even better than some products advertised in The Tribune. But the advertised goods sell the best."

Stephen Rossi, Braidwood, Ill.

"Yes. The more you can get manufacturers to advertise in The Tribune, the more goods we will sell. I have read the Daily and Sunday Tribune for the last twenty years."

D. F. W. Roberts, Hinsdale, Ill.

"I believe it helps. I would feel lost without The Chicago Tribune. It's the best."

Robt. F. Lehman, Ripon, Wis.

"Yes. We frequently have calls for articles advertised in The Tribune before we are solicited for orders."

Swearing Grocery Co., Canton, Ill.

"Yes. I have been a reader of The Tribune for the past thirty years."

A. W. Steiner, Monticello, Ia.

"If advertising pays at all, it surely does in a paper with as wide a distribution as The Chicago Tribune. One reason that a morning paper stimulates food sales is that the paper is usually read at the breakfast table or before lunch. If an interesting ad attracts the reader's attention, it would naturally cause him to desire the product."

Hoffman & Jovitsman, Three Oaks, Mich.

"We believe that advertising in The Chicago Tribune does promote sales in our community, especially when coupled up with store window displays."

J. F. Humphreys & Co., Bloomington, Ill.

"Yes. The Tribune is quoted quite often by my customers."

J. E. Wasson, Farmington, Ill.

Observe that distance from Chicago has little effect on the selling power of Tribune advertising. Dowagiac, Mich., where they stock new products on the strength of Tribune advertising, is 102 miles across Lake Michigan. Clinton, Iowa, where consumers buy the foods The Tribune tells about, is 138 miles due west. Beardstown, where they use no caution in ordering goods introduced through The Tribune, is 200 miles as the crow flies from Chicago.

Chicago Tribune Builds Markets for New Foods

Bourbon, Ind., makes many calls for Tribune-advertised articles, although the town is 95 miles from Chicago. Darlington, Wis., is 165 miles distant, but it asks for new brands exploited in The Tribune just the same. In Stockton, Ill., 131 miles northwest, Mr. Miller makes Monday displays of the goods advertised in The Sunday Tribune.

Add the fact that 80% of Chicago city grocers read The Tribune daily, and in a great many cases, display the goods advertised, and you have some measure of the selling power of Tribune advertising in Chicago and in the five great states of the Chicago Territory—Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin. In 502 cities of more than 1,000 population, The Sunday Tribune reaches at least one family in every five—in many communities three or four families in every five.

Whatever your products, if you are marketing it through retail stores, write or phone for a Tribune man to call and discuss your plan and present distribution with you. From the experience of others, he may be able to suggest merchandising methods which will increase your sales in The Chicago Tribune's five-state market.

Merchandise Loadings Increase
General merchandise loadings were 5 per cent larger than last year. From last year, total loadings were nearly 23 per cent above the corresponding period in any previous year.

Although the steel industry is still installing its recent unduly large plant, there is no serious falling off in output. Operations in the Pittsburgh trial now are about 75 per cent of last year's, compared with 90 per cent in 1923. "Largely the withholding of orders must be due to an expectation that prices will yield further," the Iron says. "Yet, with consumers hoarding their stocks of steel at the lowest levels since the war, the volume of shipments from the mills appears nearly up to the average of 1923 as compared with the volume of construction work and general consumption compares favorably with the average of 1923."

Dividend news was mixed. The Marican Seaboard Oil company declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share, replacing the stock on the $2 annual basis. This is the first dividend since June, 1934 when the same rate was paid. The National Supply company declared a dividend of 10 per cent.

United States Steel common closed near point higher at 87% yesterday. Baldwin led 2 points to 111 and then eased to strength of American Can, which closed 2 points higher at 90%, was attributed to reports that the company had won the government's claim of about $4,000 per back taxes. Ample reserves had been aside for this contingency. Studebaker closed more than 2 points higher at 83%.

Higher raw and refined prices, together with rumors of favorable dividend action, contributed to the strength of the sugar shares. Cane preferred rising more than 3 points.

Active shorts covering in the oil group carried a strong tone in the curb market. Standard Oil issues led the recovery, gaining 100 3/4 points being recorded by Humble, Imperial of Canada, Prairie Oil and Gas, and

A recovery of 4½ points in the Jones & Co. convertible 7½s followed announcement that the new recapitalisation plan would be announced within a few weeks. That a large majority of bankers hold the company's notes had agreed to a six month extension.

Bankers reported that a majority of stockholders of the Utah Gas and Coke may have signed an agreement to accept new issue of 7 per cent cumulative floating preferred stock in lieu of 10 years' unpaid dividends on present preferred. The directors are not disposed to make plan operative unless consent is unanimous. Another meeting of the stockholders has been called for May 16.

The Birmingham Electric company has $4,000,000 of first and refunding mortgage bonds, 4 per cent gold bonds to the Harris and Savings bank, the Central Trust company, Bonbright & Co., the Old Colony company, and Tucker, Anthony & Co. The bonds are due April 1, 1954, and are offered today at 97½ and interest is about 6.13 per cent.

BUSINESS STEEL

WORKING STRONG, REVEALS

By O. A. MATHER.

Although not proceeding at as rapid a pace as during the incipient "boom" of a year ago, business and industry are still running fairly strong and well above normal proportions. This is the view of the steel and automobile industries.

Merchandise is being absorbed in large quantities by consumers but there is little forward buying and price competition is keen. The railroads reported car loadings at $21,235 for the week ended April 21. This marks an increase of 1,000 over the preceding week, but a decline of 6,372 from a year ago. But most of this decline was due to the seasonal slackening of the coal trade.

Merchandise loadings, however, were 5 per cent larger than last year's corresponding period. In the automobile industry, there is no serious falling off in demand. Operations in the Pittsburgh district now are about 75 per cent of capacity, compared with 60 per cent in March. Largely the withholding of cars to be used to an expectation that prices will fall further, the Iron Age says. Tel. with consumers keeping their stocks of steel at the lowest point, shipments from the mills appear to be nearly up to the average of 1923 and the volume of construction work and of railroad consumption compares favorably with that of March.

Estimates to stay up.

There were other sidelights on both industries. Railroad officials stated that even should traffic be 10 per cent below last year, this year's net earnings would be about as good as in 1923 because of lower maintenance expense.

"Our business has been running a little behind 1923, when we were traveling under forced pressure practically all year," President Storey of the Santa Fe said. "But there is no sign of any large falling off in the gross this year and earnings are well under control."

Continuation of reasonable prosperity as predicted by Chairman Wilkinson of the Federal Reserve Board, plants are operating at 90 per cent, unfilled orders are larger than a year ago but forward bookings are only six days ahead of production, and buying by automobile manufacturers has slackened.

Automobile sales started later.

"Sales of automobiles are reported to be keeping almost the same pace as at this time last year except in certain sections of the country where local conditions are acting as a deterrent," Automotive Industries say. "Buying is not so far started considerably earlier in the season. This year buying has started late."

A few producers are on capacity schedules but there has been a general recession in the industry, this is the steel market. Revised figures place the total March output of cars at 27,000. "This brings the total for the first quarter to 1,061,523, compared with 875,552 in the first quarter, and 1,155,220 in the second quarter of last year."

Dividend news was mixed. The Mexican Seaboard Oil company declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share, placing the stock on the $2 annual basis. This is the first dividend since June, 1923, when the same rate was paid. The National Supply company declared a stock dividend of 10 per cent.

The Narragansett Mills omitted the regular quarterly dividend of 15 per cent, due at this time. The Everett Mills declared a 1/2 semi-annual dividend. The last dividend was $5, paid six months ago.

United States Steel common stock nearly a year higher at 97 1/2 yesterday. Baided up 2 points to 111 and then eased to 110 1/2. Strength of American Can, which closed near 72 points in the afternoon, was attributed to reports that the company had settled the government's claim of about $40,000.00 on back taxes. Ample reserves had been set aside for this contingency. Studebaker closed more than 2 points higher at 89 1/2.

Short covering in the metal group was stamped to some extent by the quarterly statement of the General Motors corporation. Earnings of 14 1/2 points were scored by more than a dozen stocks in this group, including Chrysler, Stewart-Warner, Remington-Union, Mack Trucks, and the Yellow Cab.

Higher raw and refined prices, together with reports of favorable dividend action, contributed to the strength of the sugar shares. Cuba preferred ratings were more than 3 points and American Sugar Refining, Cuban-American, and American Sugar and Refining all rose 1/2 point. A recovery of 4 1/2 points in the Mexican Seaboard Oil shares followed announcement that the new recapitalization program had been approved by a few holders. The company's new plan had been approved by a few holders.

Active short covering in the oil group impeded a strong rise in the curb market. United Oil rose in the recovery, gain of 1 1/2 points being recorded by Humble, Independent of Canada, Prairie Oil and Gas, Prairie Oil Refining, and Standard Oil of Indiana and Nebraska, as well as by such independent producers as Mountain Producers, Gulf of Mexico, and Penn-Mexico Fuel.

General investment was shown in the bond market. The yield on the new 4 1/2 per cent bonds was reflected in stiffer quotations for virtually all classes of bonds. New issues showed a $30,000,000 were readily absorbed. A recovery of 4 1/2 points in the Mexican Seaboard Oil shares followed announcement that the new recapitalization program had been approved by a few holders. The company's new plan had been approved by a few holders.

COOLIDGE RUN
NOW ABSOLUTELY
IN HIS POWER

Refuses to Dictate
on Running Mate

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
Washington, D. C., April 24.—Coolidge, who a few months ago was an unknown quantity in the political world, now not only the acknowledged leader but the dictator by common consent of the Republican party. In those five months he has made himself the assured nominee of the party for President on the first ballot by a nearly unanimous vote, if not acclamation. Out of 654 delegates elected to the convention, President Coolidge now has over forty-eight more than a majority. He is scheduled to enter the convention with more than 1,000 of the 1,100 delegates. He has come to dominate the party completely, not by reason of any real out for power on his own part, but by virtue of the party's voluntary, practical unanimity, placing its destiny in his hands.

Coolidge to Name Crew. As a result of the dramatic rise of his silent, modest but extremely capable Yankee to supreme command with all his rivals swept ignominiously from the field, Mr. Coolidge is about to select the temporary permanent chairman of the Republican national convention, to supervise the construction of the party platform, and even to name the candidates. The President will be urged to make his preference in the choice of running mate on the ticket, but up to date he has declined to take any part in the discussion of candidates. The leaders closest to the President are not at all sure that he will keep his hands off the presidential nomination and that the selection for second place on the ticket will become a free for all contest in the convention.

Dawes Vice President? This field of possibilities for the nomination for Vice President now comprises former Gov. Lowell of Massachusetts, Charles G. Dawes of Illinois, Charles H. Hyde of Missouri, Senator Beveridge of Indiana, former Gov. Shoup of Colorado, United States Judge Kenyon of Iowa, and Senator Capper of Kansas. Senator Capper also has attempted to discourage the movement in his half. Many Republican leaders are convinced that with an eastern conservative the nominee for President and strategy call for the selection of a western progressive for Vice President. In this connection the names of Kenyon, Beveridge, Borah and Capper have been mentioned frequently.

Later a movement developed in half of Lowell, whose backers contended that while he is a conservative he wields great influence among farmers as a result of his activities in the solution of agricultural problems particularly in the last two years.

Coolidge to Pick Keynote. The temporary chairman who will sound the campaign keynote for the party undoubtedly will be selected by President Coolidge. The committee arrangements will meet at Cleveland May 15 to name the temporary chairman and will consult Mr. Coolidge to his preference.

There is general belief here that President will select Secretary of Agriculture, who delivered a satisfactory keynote speech recently at the New York state convention. Others suggested include those in list of vice presidential possibilities and Congressman Burton (O.), Sen. Willie (O.), former Gov. Morris of Kentucky, and Gov. Groesbeck of Michigan.

The permanent chairman will be selected from the names remaining in the foregoing list after the selection of the temporary chairman.

G. O. P. Campaign Under Way. With the Cleveland convention almost virtually a ratification of the platform and the platform itself, the Republican election campaign is virtually under way. By the time the convention adjourns the Republican campaign machinery will be running under a full head of steam.

This was signalled today at a luncheon given by John T. Adams, chairman of the national committee. The President's secretary, William M. Clegg, Coolidge primary campaign chairman, Frank W. Starnes, National Committee chairman, M. H. Huston, chairman of the National ways and means committee, and others were present.
